ATTENDANCE POLICY

IREC ATTENDANCE POLICY For Live Course Presentations

Regular attendance means 100% attendance at all sessions of a live (including courses taught by interactive video conference) prelicense or continuing education (CE) course. The Commission obligates instructors and course providers to monitor student attendance and strictly enforce this attendance policy. A certified instructor or course provider may have his/its certification withdrawn for failure to enforce the 100% attendance policy at all course offerings.

A student who misses any portion (even a few minutes) of a course taken for CE elective credit may not receive credit for the course unless the provider allows the student to attend the corresponding class session(s) in a subsequent offering of the same course.

A student who misses any portion (even a few minutes) of a prelicense course may, at the discretion of the instructor and provider, complete make-up work to satisfy the 100% attendance requirement. Make-up work is allowed ONLY for prelicense courses. Make-up work is defined as one or more of the following:

1. Extra homework or other assignment given by the instructor; or
2. Attendance in the corresponding class session(s) in a subsequent offering of the same course; or
3. Supervised presentation of an audio or video recording of the class session(s) missed.

A student who does not complete the required make-up work for a prelicense course may not receive credit for the course and will be issued an "incomplete".

PREFACE

I. COURSE OBJECTIVES

This course is designed to supply brokers, associate brokers, sales associates, administrative assistants, bookkeepers, and other interested parties with many of the requirements of the Idaho Real Estate License Law and Rules. This is a “how to” course that will bring you up to date on changes in license law and rules governing the proper maintenance of records and accounting for client funds, and assist you in developing good record keeping and business practices. This course will also give you some information on what the Idaho Real Estate Inspector looks for when doing an audit at your real estate office.

While reading the outline along with the supplemental materials, we recommend you look up in each section or rule number from the License Law booklet for future reference and as a study guide.

This material is by no means complete and should not be used as a substitute for competent legal or other professional advice. Personal opinions expressed by the instructor in this course are not necessarily the opinions of the Idaho Real Estate Commission or Education Council. Because the Idaho Real Estate Commission does not design, revise, sell, or approve forms for real estate transactions, any actual forms used herein are samples only. The License Law only provides for certain information to be included in many of the forms used by real estate licensees in the State of Idaho. They are not intended to be an endorsement of any particular form. If the instructor wishes, he/she may provide information concerning the examples used in the case study on the forms generally in use in any particular area of the state. The forms used in the case study are used with the authorization of the Idaho Association of Realtors®. They are copyrighted and can not be used by anyone who is not a REALTOR®.

II. CREDIT

The Commission grants 4 hours of continuing education elective credit for successful completion of this course. 100% mandatory attendance is required at live lecture courses.

BUSINESS CONDUCT AND OFFICE OPERATIONS

I. REAL ESTATE PRACTICES & PROCEDURES

A. Brokerage Representaion Agreements

Defined by section 54-2004(6) as "a written contract between a buyer, seller, or both, and a real estate brokerage for agency representation in a regulated real estate transaction."

1. Enforceability – Contract Law – Refers to a legally enforceable agreement between competent parties, or an enforceable promise. To be enforceable, a brokerage agreement must:
  - a. Be in Writing. (Statute of Frauds) The parties to an oral real estate contract may have a valid contract (one that has all the essential elements) but the contract is not enforceable if it is not in writing.
  - b. Contain Required Elements (whether exclusive or nonexclusive) that must be included in all of the following contracts.
    - (1) Seller Representation Agreements, section 54-2050(1).
      - (a) Conspicuous and definite beginning and expiration date. (Note: The expiration date is an element on the agreement that the Commission inspectors find not filled in when doing audits.)
      - (b) Legally enforceable description of the property. A legally enforceable legal description (metes & bounds description, lot/block/subdivision, or Government Rectangular Survey) must be included when agreement is signed and cannot be added later.
      - (c) Price and Terms acceptable to the seller.
      - (d) All fees or commissions
      - (e) Signature of all owners with date.
    - (2) Buyer Representation Agreements, section 54-2050(2).
      - (a) Conspicuous and definite beginning and expiration date ( Note: The expiration date is an element on this agreement that the Commission Inspectors find not filled in when doing audits. )
      - (b) All financial obligations of the buyer.
      - (c) Manner in which fees will be paid to the broker.
      - (d) Appropriate signature with date.
    - (3) Automatic renewal clauses. No buyer or seller representation agreement shall contain a provision requiring the party signing the agreement to notify the broker of the party's intention to cancel the agreement after the definite expiration date.
2. Agency Disclosure
  - a. Agency Disclosure brochure - Present at first substantial business contact the agency disclosure brochure adopted or approved by the Idaho Real Estate Commission. Each brokerage shall

- keep a signed and dated record of a buyer or seller's receipt of the agency disclosure brochure.
- b. The agency disclosure brochure and the representation agreement shall indicate the types of representation available to a buyer or seller in a regulated real estate transaction.
  - c. The brochure and agreement shall indicate the legal duties and obligations owed to the buyer or seller in each type of representation and a conspicuous notice that no representation will exist absent a written agreement.
  - d. A brokerage's relationship with a buyer or seller as an agent, nonagent, limited dual agent or limited dual agent with assigned agents must be determined and all necessary agreements executed no later than the preparation of a purchase and sale agreement. A brokerage must disclose its relationship to both buyer and seller in any transaction no later than the preparation or presentation of a purchase and sales agreement.
  - e. In addition, a purchase and sale agreement, an attachment thereto, or other document drafted in connection with a regulated real estate transaction shall contain the confirmation and acknowledgment of the relationship, whether it involved representation or not. ( The specific format and language required by the Idaho Real Estate Commission will be found in Section B of this outline.)
  - f. Discuss representation options and make sure the buyer and seller understand. Seller or buyer will elect single agency or will consent to limited dual representation with or without as signed agency by initialing the appropriate line on the representation agreement.
    - (1) Nonagency: If there is not a written, signed and dated agreement on representation, then the buyer or seller is not being represented and would be a customer
    - (2) Agency Representation: If there is a written, signed and dated agreement containing all the required elements then the buyer and seller are clients and are being represented.
    - (3) Neither the Commission brochure nor the representation confirmation shall create a brokerage relationship. A separate, signed, written agreement is required for that purpose.
  - g. The failure of a licensee to timely give a buyer or seller the agency disclosure brochure or the failure of a licensee to properly and timely obtain any written agreement or confirmation required by the Broker Law shall be a violation of the Idaho Real Estate license law and may subject the licensee to disciplinary action according to the provisions of Idaho Code.
3. Anytime there are questions concerning a contract, contact an attorney. The Idaho Real Estate Commission DOES NOT GET INVOLVED in contract disputes.
  4. Distribution of the Brokerage Agreements
    - a. Copy must be given to the Sellers or Buyers
    - b. Listing broker must retain the original copy for 3 calendar years after the year in which the event occurred, the transaction closed, all funds were disbursed, or the agreement and any written extension expired.
  5. Cancellation of a Listing—The rights of an owner or broker to cancel a listing agreement are determined by contract law and court decisions. A seller may legitimately want to cancel because the broker is not making a good effort to market the property; or maybe the broker has made every effort to market the property and he now suspects a buyer has been found but now the seller does not want to pay for services. Either could be essentially “breaking” the contract. The term “Cancellation” of a listing means that the contract is fully terminated, either with or without the broker's consent and with or without “good cause” on the part of the seller. (For further clarification, you may want to refer to IREC Guideline #1, available from the Commission office or website.)

6. Withdrawal of a Listing—Means that the contract remains in full force and effect, but the property is no longer marketed or offered for sale by the broker. It is important to be specific and clearly state the intent to withdraw or cancel a listing.
7. Chronological Listing Number—Assigning a numbering system is recommended. It is a good business practice to include the name, mailing address, street address, etc.
8. Seller Property Condition Disclosure Form—This must be completed by the seller no later than 10 days after a purchase & sale agreement is received, and the buyer has 3 days to accept. It is a good idea to have the seller complete this form when the listing agreement is signed. Failure to comply with the disclosure law does not invalidate the transfer, but it does impose liability for actual damages upon someone who willfully or negligently violates the disclosure requirements. Good faith is specifically required in this law. (See your attorney if there are problems.)
9. Lead-Based Paint Disclosure—Effective 12/6/96, owners of 4 or less dwelling units, and 9/6/96 for units 4 or more, new federal requirements involving housing built prior to 1978. Requires specific federal forms and brochures. This is a federal requirement and not audited by the Commission. Notification and disclosure information must be provided to the buyer before the seller accepts the offer. It is a good idea to have the seller complete this form when the listing agreement is signed.

B. Offers to Purchase

(Section 54-2051) The licensee shall, as promptly as practicable, tender to the seller every written offer to purchase obtained on the real estate involved, up until time of closing. A purchase and sale agreement signed by the prospective buyer shall be deemed in all respects an offer to purchase.

1. Enforceability
  - a. Contract Law: a written document is required in order to conform to contract law. To be legally enforceable it must contain the necessary elements of a contract.
  - b. Essential terms of the purchase and sale agreement include:
    - (1) All terms and conditions as directed by the buyer or seller
    - (2) Actual form and amount of earnest money (section 54-2051(4)(b))
      - (a) Cash, check, money order, promissory note (if a promissory note is used, include the specific date the note is due. Do not use "at closing"). Post-dated checks should not be accepted. If the buyer asks you to hold the check until the next week until they can deposit money, you should get a note and also you must tell the seller what the situation is. Also do not give the buyer the receipt copy and then tell them you will come back to get the check you just gave them a receipt for. The Commission finds situations where the check is dated after date on the purchase and sales agreement.
      - (b) Other:
        - i. General personal property: gold, gems, love and good will. (Gems could be put in a safe deposit box. Complete a notice of opening a trust account and authorization form and send to Commission)
        - ii. Value must be verified: gems should be taken to reputable jeweler to determine the value
        - iii. If a vehicle is used, someone needs to value, determine who will maintain possession and have the title.
    - (3) Provision for division of earnest money retained by any person as forfeited payment should the transaction not close

- (4) Names of the parties involved
- (5) Name of Responsible Broker (who is responsible to hold the earnest money). The broker who lists and sells any real property shall be deemed the responsible broker. In a cooperative sale, the broker who holds entrusted funds in a real estate trust account or who delivers or transfers the funds to the closing agency or any authorized party other than the cooperating broker, shall be deemed the broker responsible for the transaction.
- (6) Signatures of the Buyer and Seller.
- (7) Dates (If counter offers/addendums then check boxes accordingly), Signatures must also be dated.
- (8) Legal description (metes & bounds, lot/block/ subdivision or government rectangular survey) must have an adequate legal description.
- (9) Contingencies: be sure to write up any contingencies in an understandable manner such as, back up offer, or "bump clauses." You may want to contact an attorney.
- (10) Agency Disclosure, as defined in Idaho Code under the "Idaho Real Estate Brokerage Representation Act" A purchase and sale agreement, an attachment thereto, or other document drafted in connection with a regulated real estate transaction shall contain the following confirmation of the relationship, whether it involved representation or not, between the buyer, seller and licensees involved:
  - (a) Representation Confirmation must contain this specific language: It is important to understand that this language must be part of the purchase and sales agreement or must be added as an addendum when not using a pre-printed form type contract.
  - (b) "Agency" refers to the broker's agency position rather than the associates. The only allowable terms are AGENT or NONAGENT or LIMITED DUAL AGENT or LIMITED DUAL AGENT WITH ASSIGNED AGENTS.
  - (c) Buyer/Seller Representation Agreements
    - i. Must be in writing (Section 54-2084, Idaho Code)–If it's not in writing you are dealing with a customer as a nonagent
    - ii. Requirements of responsible broker:
      - (i) Listing office (representing seller) needs a copy of the Seller Representation Agreement/Listing agreement in the transaction file
      - (ii) Selling office (representing buyer) needs a copy of the Buyer Representation Agreement or some form of written agreement with the buyer in the transaction file
      - (iii) Both listing and selling office (representing buyer and seller) need copies of Buyer AND Seller Representation agreement with Consent to Limited Dual Representation or Consent to Limited Dual Representation with Assigned Agents in file
    - iii. Licensees Dealing with Their Own Property. (Section 54-2055): A licensee shall disclose in writing to any buyer or seller that the licensee directly, indirectly, or through a third party, sells or purchases an interest in real property for personal use or any other purpose; or acquires or intends to acquire any interest in real property or any option to purchase real property.

Each actively licensed person buying or selling real property or any interest therein, in a regulated real estate transaction, must conduct the transaction through the broker with whom he is licensed, whether or not the property is listed.

(b) Written Office Policy on Agency Disclosure (Section 54-2090, Idaho Code) Each designated broker shall be responsible to adopt and maintain in each office, including branch offices, a written policy which identifies and describes the types of representation in which that brokerage and its associated licensees may engage with any buyer or seller, or both, as a part of that office's real estate brokerage services.

The Idaho Real Estate Commission will ask to see the office agency policy when auditing, they are finding that brokers are not keeping their policy current. Many brokers have adopted the new agency policy but have not updated their original office agency policy. The Policy must be available if a client or customer asks for it.

2. Consult an Attorney...when advice is requested from either party to the transaction, including opinions on title. Real estate licensees can give all the information they want, but if they give advice, it can affect someone's legal rights. If the licensee is not an expert, refer to an attorney or the title company for an explanation. Licensees could be setting themselves up for a lawsuit, even though they may only be trying to be helpful. Remember, a licensee cannot advise on legal matters as it may be considered the "Unauthorized Practice of Law."
3. Distribution of the Purchase & Sale Agreement
  - a. Copy must be given to the Buyer when Buyer first completes and signs
  - b. Copy to the Seller upon Seller's acceptance and signature

REPRESENTATION CONFIRMATION AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF DISCLOSURE

Check one (1) box in Section 1 below and one (1) box in Section 2 below to confirm that in this transaction, the brokerage(s) involved had the following relationship(s) with the BUYER(S) and SELLER(S).

Section One:

- with
and
- A. ☐ The brokerage working with the BUYER(S) is acting as an AGENT for the BUYER(S).
  - B. ☐ The brokerage working with the BUYER(S) is acting as a LIMITED DUAL AGENT for the BUYER(S), out an ASSIGNED AGENT.
  - C. ☐ The brokerage working with the BUYER(S) is acting as a LIMITED DUAL AGENT for the BUYER(S), has an ASSIGNED AGENT acting solely on behalf of the BUYER(S).
  - D. ☐ The brokerage working with the BUYER(S) is acting as a NONAGENT for the BUYER(S).

Section Two:

- and
- A. ☐ The brokerage working with the SELLER(S) is acting as an AGENT for the SELLER(S).
  - B. ☐ The brokerage working with the SELLER(S) is acting as a LIMITED DUAL AGENT for the SELLER(S), without an ASSIGNED AGENT.
  - C. ☐ The brokerage working with the SELLER(S) is acting as a LIMITED DUAL AGENT for the SELLER(S), has an ASSIGNED AGENT acting solely on behalf of the SELLER(S).
  - D. ☐ The brokerage working with the SELLER(S) is acting as a NONAGENT for the SELLER(S). Each party signing this document confirms that he or she has received, read and understood the Agency Disclosure Brochure adopted or approved by the Idaho Real Estate Commission and has elected consented to the relationship confirmed above. In addition, each party confirms that the brokerage's agency office policy was made available for inspection and review. EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS THAT HE IS A "CUSTOMER" AND IS NOT REPRESENTED BY A BROKERAGE UNLESS THERE IS A SIGNED WRITTEN AGREEMENT FOR AGENCY REPRESENTATION.

- c. Copy to Buyer showing Seller's acceptance and signature
- d. Original or true copy of all offers accepted, countered or rejected shall be retained in the broker's files. It is critical to designate on the purchase and sale agreement who is the responsible broker. (Note: It is important that the broker keeps copies of rejected offers also. The commission is finding that brokers don't always have rejected offer in the files.)
- e. If the Buyer's and Seller's copies are found in the broker's file, it will be assumed that copies have not been delivered properly. If photocopies have been given to buyers or sellers because they are more legible, clear out all others, do not retain.
- 4. Facsimile Transmission of the Purchase & Sale Agreement—It must state that they are considered the same as delivery of an original
- 5. Withdrawal of Offer—It can be done at any time prior to being presented to the seller, or can be withdrawn anytime prior to acknowledgment of the offer being accepted. Attempting to withdraw an offer after it has been accepted could be a problem and end up being a civil matter to be resolved in the courts. All offers must be presented up to time of closing. (Can always take as a backup offer, but if seller chooses to reject, that's their option.)
- 6. Rejected/Fallen Offers—Must be dated and marked as fallen, rejected, void, or canceled and must be retained in the brokers files for 3 years plus the year the transaction fell, was rejected, void or canceled.

C. Sales Associate's Responsibility to Broker

- 1. All consideration received by a sales associate in connection with a real estate transaction shall immediately be delivered to the designated broker or office
- 2. No return of consideration is to be made without the knowledge and consent of the broker. If funds are to be returned before it has been deposited to a trust account or in accordance with written instructions on the purchase and sale agreement, the broker or sales associate shall indicate the return by a dated notation on the purchase and sale agreement and ledger card. As a suggestion, it is a good idea to make a copy of the check and have the buyer acknowledge receipt of the returned check with the date given noted. Keep this in your transaction file. Note: Once you have given the buyer the receipt copy for the earnest money and then return the check when the seller rejects the offer, there still must be a ledger card done indicating what happened. This requires the agent to bring copies to the broker.

D. Trust Ledger Cards

- 1. An individual trust ledger shall be immediately created whenever a broker, or any licensed or unlicensed person representing the broker, receives earnest money or other consideration, even if the consideration will be deposited with, held by, paid directly to, transferred or delivered to a title company, other approved depository, or any other person, as directed in writing, signed and assigned the next chronological transaction number (section 54-2044). This requirement also applies even if the offer is rejected and the earnest money is returned.
  - a. Consideration can be:
    - (1) Money (cash, personal or cashier's check)
      - (a) If Cash: it is a good business practice to deposit immediately even if the purchase and sales agreement states to hold until exception by all parties. Some brokers also have a policy of making a copy of the bills to be retained in the file.
      - (b) If Personal Checks: make sure before writing a check from your trust account that the buyer's check cleared since it could be insufficient fund. If the buyer asks you to hold the check until they can deposit funds, you should get a promissory note.

- (2) Making a photocopy of the check or consideration for your files is a good business practice.
- (3) Promise to pay (promissory note). If a promissory note is used, include the specific date the note is due. Do not use “due at closing”, because if the transaction does close the note is not collectable. Make sure you actually prepare a promissory note.
- (4) Personal property
  - (a.) If you receive gold, gems, and coin collections, someone must put a value on the items. Both the buyer and seller must agree to value. If you as the broker are going to retain possession of these type items, you should put them in a safety deposit box. You must complete a notice of opening a trust account and authorization form and send it to the commission.
  - (b.) Vehicle. If a motor vehicle is used, someone needs to determine value and determine who will retain title and possession.
  - (c.) Other items: Just like other personal property items, someone needs to determine the value and who will be responsible for retaining possession of the items.
- b. MUST include names of buyer and seller, property location, transaction number, date of deposits and disbursements
  - (1) Transaction Number: How ledger cards are numbered will vary from office to office. If living on state borders (Idaho/ Oregon, Utah, Wyoming) do not include other state transactions in chronological numbering system along with Idaho transaction numbers (i.e. 97-001/97-002, etc.). Do not confuse listing numbers with actual sales transaction numbers. Some offices set up a running “log” of transactions so they have an “on-going” list and know the next transaction # to assign.
  - (2) Show final disposition of transaction on the ledger card (i.e. closed/fell, etc.) and date
- 2. Ledger cards to be maintained in alphabetical or transaction number order.
- 3. Pending transaction ledgers must be separated from closed, rejected, or fallen transaction ledgers
- 4. When the transaction has closed:
  - a. Disburse funds out of the trust account
  - b. Clearly account for funds disbursed
  - c. Note the final disposition of the transaction on the ledger card (i.e. Closed at ABC Title Company) with the date and zero balance
  - d. Move the ledger card from “pending” to “closed” section
- 5. Earnest money held for future transactions or on a back-up offer must be tracked on the ledger card(s)
- 6. Ledger cards are to be posted up-to-date and correct at all times, with a current balance for each entry.
- 7. Ledger cards must be retained for the current year plus 3 more years.

II. REAL ESTATE TRUST FUNDS & ACCOUNTS

A. Definition of Trust Account

An account set up by a broker, attorney or other agent at a bank or other approved depository, into which the broker deposits all trust funds entrusted to that broker, attorney, etc. by the principal or others. The trust account must designate the broker as trustee and must provide for withdrawal of the funds upon demand. The broker may also permit a branch manager to have custody and control of trust funds on behalf of the broker for transactions at that specific branch office. However, the broker is ultimately responsible for all funds deposited into that trust account.

B. Purpose of a Trust Account

1. A licensed Idaho real estate broker shall be responsible for all moneys or property entrusted to that broker or to any licensee representing the broker.
2. Immediately upon receipt, the broker shall deposit entrusted moneys in a neutral, qualified trust fund account, and shall properly care for any entrusted property.
3. Only moneys relating to a regulated real estate transaction may be deposited in the broker's real estate trust account.
4. The real estate broker shall remain fully responsible and accountable for all entrusted moneys and property until a full accounting has been given to the parties involved.

C. Deposited in an Approved Depository

1. What is an Approved Depository (section 54-2042)
  - a. State or federally chartered bank
  - b. State or federally chartered savings & loan
  - c. Properly licensed title company
  - d. An actively licensed attorney at law
2. Other Entity Approved by Commission – Idaho Central Credit Union

D. Accounting for Funds Held By Others

1. Agreement must state that money is to be held by:
  - a. Title companies
    - (1) Notice of opening trust account required
    - (2) Must be established under broker's business name
    - (3) Receipt required ( write transaction number on receipt )
    - (4) Monthly statement show account balance required.
    - (5) Funds must be subject to withdrawal on demand of broker. Some title companies have told brokers that they won't release earnest money until they have a signed release from both the buyer and seller. If this is the case this title company should not be used as a trust account depository. The broker has lost control of entrusted funds.
  - b. Other

- (1) Attorney (with same provisions as required by a title company)
- (2) Seller/Builder (only if released or to be held by seller/builder by written agreement)
- 2. Obtain a receipt for the funds given to the title company, attorney, seller, builder, etc.. This is one item that the inspector will review when doing an office audit.
  - a. Receipt must be identified by transaction number so it can be compared to the ledger card.
  - b. Receipt must be maintained in broker's transaction file

E. Establishing a Trust Account

All funds received by a real estate broker in connection with a real estate transaction shall be deposited into a real estate trust account maintained by the broker at an approved depository. Each trust account shall be established and maintained under the BUSINESS NAME of the broker and be under the FULL CONTROL of that broker, and

- 1. The trust account must be identified "REAL ESTATE TRUST ACCOUNT".
- 2. "Notice of Opening a Trust Account" form obtained from Commission office (available online) must be completed, signed by the broker and the official at the depository and returned to Commission.
- 3. Deposited according to section 54-2045 (1)
  - a. On or before next banking day, or
  - b. By a signed written agreement by both parties. Purchase and sale agreements are preprinted to say the funds are to be deposited in trust account "upon receipt" or "upon acceptance" by all parties. (If anything different, be specific, i.e. be specific as to a date and how paid.) The faxed or original signed deposit instructions are to be kept in the transaction file.

F. Interest Bearing Trust Accounts

- 1. Can Be Used Under These Circumstances:
  - a. Established by written direction of all parties
  - b. Clearly stated who will receive interest and, how and when it will be disbursed
  - c. Notice to Commission (Notice of Opening a Trust Account)
  - d. Must be deposited in approved depository
  - e. Deposited on or before the next banking day or by written agreement signed by both parties
  - f. Must be accounted for in broker's records on ledger cards, and there can be no penalty on principal for withdrawal of funds on demand (as in a certificate of deposit)
- 2. Always notify Commission when an interest bearing trust account is closed.

G. Commingling of Funds

Section 54-2042, Idaho Code specifically states that "No deposits to the trust account shall be made of funds that belong to the broker or real estate firm" in excess of $300.

1. Examples of commingling:
  - a. Rental funds, security deposits, repairs, appraisal fees
  - b. Developmental funds (road building)
  - c. Earnest money funds not transferred after closing
2. Exceptions to commingling
  - a. Maximum $300 for trust maintenance fund
  - b. Establish a ledger card titled "Trust Account Maintenance Fund." This ledger is filed with the broker's current "open" ledger cards. Any credits or debits to the trust account fund shall be posted to the ledger card as soon as the bank gives the broker notice of the deposit or deduction. The balance on this ledger card shall be brought current at least monthly. Items that might be included are:
    - (1) Monthly service charges
    - (2) Returned check fees
    - (3) Check printing charges
  - c. In no case are maintenance funds to be disbursed for any purpose other than to cover bank charges directly charged to the trust account by the bank.
  - d. If you have a listing and are being asked to rent the property until it gets sold and have a management agreement, then any funds that are part of the rent on the property should be made part of the transaction file and tracked in the trust account with a ledger card.

H. Duplicate Deposit Book

(54-2044 (7)) When ordering your duplicate deposit slips, make sure the required information is included and preprinted correctly. (Some offices order TRIPLICATE deposit books)

1. Must be preprinted with the broker's business name and "Real Estate Trust Account"
2. Duplicate deposit slips are to be maintained in the deposit book in chronological order
3. Wire Transfers whether incoming or outgoing are not allowed by license law.
4. Information required on deposit slip:
  - a. Date of deposit
  - b. Name of payor (buyer)
  - c. Amount of the earnest money
  - d. Transaction number
5. Proof of deposit must be included by means of:

- a. Date stamped at bank and/or
- b. Receipt attached (to back side of duplicate in bank deposit book)
- 6. Deposits to be accounted for in broker's records (ledger cards, check register)

I. Real Estate Trust Account Checks

- 1. (Section 54-2044) Trust account checks must include:
  - a. Preprinted and numbered consecutively so that all checks can be accounted for
  - b. Include broker's licensed business name and current business address (as registered with the Commission)
  - c. "Real Estate Trust Account" imprinted on them
  - d. Transaction number included on face of check (Whenever a check is written)
- 2. Voided checks must:
  - a. Be maintained in order with other canceled checks or attached to check stubs. They are not to be destroyed
  - b. Be marked as "void" in very large letters. It is a good business practice to have the signature line cut off.
  - c. Be included on your check register or stubs. Make sure if you use a computer system that voided checks are accounted for on your computer generated check register.
- 3. Check register required elements
  - a. Names, dates, amount, and purpose for deposit or disbursement, check number, transaction number, and current daily balance
  - b. Posted up to date, current and correct at all times

J. Reconciliation

- 1. Purpose of a reconciliation is to verify that the broker is in balance 3 ways:
  - (1) check register
  - (2) bank statements, and
  - (3) ledger cards
- 2. MUST be completed at least Monthly
- 3. Proof retained three calendar years after the year in which the event occurred. Suggestion: run an adding machine tape on pending ledger cards and attach to bank statements
- 4. Excel Form (with instructions) is available on IREC website. This is a great form to use for your reconciliation.

K. Alternate Accounting Methods

1. Computer accounting systems are ok to use but everything is still required as with a manual system. The check register and ledger cards must be printed (hard copy) if requested by the inspector.
2. Ledger cards must include buyer, seller, property location, transaction #, dates and amounts of deposits, disbursements, and final disposition of transaction
3. Check register must include dates and amounts of deposits, disbursements, transaction number and names of buyers/sellers, check #'s, and voided checks, etc. Some computers do not have fields large enough to include all necessary information.
4. Voided checks (posted to register) must show on computer generated check register.
5. Backup is a very important area for the broker to consider. What would be the end result if you didn't have a back up tape and your computer failed?

L. Disbursements From Trust Account

1. No disbursements in advance of closing, unless the funds are disbursed to the closing entity to facilitate the closing. All funds are to be disbursed only in accordance with the terms of the purchase and sale agreement or other written authorization signed by the parties having an interest in such payments, or by court order. (section 54-2046)
2. Commissions: The withdrawal of any portion of the broker's commission shall not take place without written authorization from the seller and buyer or until the closing statements have been delivered to the buyers and sellers and the seller or buyer has been paid the amount due as determined by the closing statements.
  - a. Paid from trust account (which is permissible). After closing, some offices deposit the commission checks from the closing company into the trust account and write individual commission checks from the trust account. The amount of the commission check is entered on ledger card and all disbursements for that transaction are noted specifically on that ledger card, OR
  - b. Paid from general account (which is also permissible). The trust account is easier to reconcile if done this way.
  - c. Must be withdrawn from the trust account, regardless of whether or not the closing check is deposited into the trust account. Just make sure that those funds are withdrawn from the trust account after the closing. If commissions are left in the trust account, this would be considered "commingling", and cause a problem with your trust account not reconciling at the end of the month.
  - d. Remember, the only way a broker can withdraw a commission or any other funds from the trust account prior to closing is if it is agreed to in writing by all parties. Often times, if the amount of earnest money is less than what the broker will receive as a commission, some closing companies will just tell the broker to hold that earnest money. The closing company still includes the amount of earnest money deposited with the broker on the closing statements, but then deducts that amount when the broker's commission check is written. Funds are not to be disbursed until after the actual closing and all funds have been accounted for.
  - e. With the appropriate broker authorization, commission checks can be paid by the closing company directly also to the individual agents.
  - f. A transaction is closed when all funds are disbursed and accounted for in ledger cards, check register, etc.
  - g. Forfeited earnest money: It is very important for the purchase and sale agreement to include a provision for how earnest money will be handled should the transaction not close and those trust funds become forfeited earnest money. Most forfeiture clauses are preprinted on your purchase and sale agreement.

M. Disputed Earnest Money

No matter how careful you try to be, sometimes a transaction will end up with disputed earnest money. This is one of the more common types of complaints received at the Real Estate Commission. (Refer to section 54-2047.)

1. The purchase and sale agreement is an agreement in writing between the buyer and seller. If the earnest money is in dispute because one or both parties have breached the contract, then the first thing a broker may want to do is attempt to get a written agreement signed by the buyer and seller on how the earnest money funds should be disbursed, thereby releasing the broker from the custody of the funds. The broker may rely on the wording of the forfeiture clause to attempt to disburse the funds.
  - a. If the broker makes the decision on how the disputed earnest money is to be disbursed:
    - (1) Document the decision. The broker needs to keep accurate documentation in the file on how and why the funds were disbursed.
    - (2) Then the broker must account for the money disbursed by proper posting to the ledger cards, check register, transaction file, etc.
  - b. If the broker is unable to satisfactorily disburse the funds, then the broker may hold the disputed money until the parties to the transaction agree on how the disputed money is to be disbursed. However, the broker can send the case to:
    - (1) An interpleader
    - (2) Small claims court (if $5,000 or less), or
    - (3) Funds can be held until the broker is ordered by the courts to disburse
2. Remember that all parties need to be kept informed of the broker's actions
3. (For further clarification, you may want to refer to IREC Guideline #14, which is available from the Commission office or website.)

N. Returned/Unclaimed Earnest Money

If unable to locate the buyer or seller contact the "Unclaimed Property" Department of the State Tax Commission.

III. RETENTION OF TRANSACTION RECORDS

- 3. Records and files must be kept current

B. Document Maintenance and Retention

- 2. All written offers that are rejected or withdrawn, etc., must be clearly marked and dated as such and retained by the responsible broker for the current year plus three years

- 4. Superseded offers should be legibly marked as such (then mark the prior offers as rejected/fallen)

IV. OTHER ITEMS

A. Real Estate Licenses

- 1. A brokerage is not required to obtain, display, or possess a physical license certificate as evidence of the individual's active licensure; however, the Commission may make license certificates available for a fee as authorized by this chapter. A brokerage shall not display or otherwise make available to the public a license certificate for any individual who does not hold an active license with the brokerage.

B. Notice of License Change Forms

1. Signed (licensee and broker, if applicable) & Proper Fees
2. If the change is a business name change or business address change, or a change of designated broker (something that affects all licensees) include a list of the associates
3. Returning forms for signatures or completion and/or requesting missing documentation results in delays in processing changes
4. A sales associate who terminates his licensed association with a broker shall provide the broker written notice of the termination no later than three business days after the effective day.
5. A broker who terminates a sales associate shall provide written notice of the termination to the associate no later than three business days after the effective date.
6. A licensee's written notice to the commission does not relieve him of the duty to provide written notice to the other licensee that he is terminating the relationship.
7. The broker shall notify the commission in writing within 10 business days of the termination of an associate for cause.

C. New License Applications

1. Signed (applicant & broker)
2. Education required, pass Examination, & Experience required
3. Errors & Omission Insurance
4. Litigation Question
5. Fingerprinting

D. License Renewal

1. Signed by applicant (on-line renewal available) & Proper Fees
2. Continuing Education Verification on Renewal Form
  - a. Active Licenses EFFECTIVE July 1, 2003 and after = One CE COMMISSION CORE COURSE, PLUS 16 elective course hours
  - b. The CE Commission Core Course is a specific course developed by IREC each July 1. It is recommended that licensees take the Commission Core Course every year. You can take two Commission Core courses over your two years of license renewal. One will count as the required Core course and the other will be counted as elective credit.
  - c. The CE Exam is not required for Live courses, but is required for all other forms of continuing education (video, audio, Internet, etc.) The exam must be a proctored exam to get credit for any for of distance learning.
  - d. DO NOT WAIT to complete CE until the last month prior to your renewal. You can take CE anytime from the time you are licensed until your renewal date. Once you have completed the first renewal period you then have 2 years to complete your continuing education requirements. Take it early!

3. Continuing Education changes & Clarifications:
  - a. Licensee shall not submit a renewal application on active status before first having obtained the CE credit hours required by the Commission.
  - b. A licensee who violates this shall be subject to disciplinary action.
  - c. Commission may request satisfactory proof of CE compliance from any licensee who has certified that he has completed the requirement.
  - d. This request shall state the time the proof must be received at the commission office which shall not be less than ten business days.
  - e. Failure to submit satisfactory proof to completing the CE requirements to the Commission may subject licensee to have his license inactivated by the Commission. He shall not be entitled to reactivate the license unless and until he provides the Commission satisfactory proof of meeting CE requirements.
  - f. Where an application to renew an active license has been granted, but it is later determined that the licensee did not meet the CE requirements for an ACTIVE license, inactivation is appropriate. There will also be the possibility of civil fines.
  - g. Licensee has a duty to keep satisfactory proof of successful completion of the CE requirements and shall submit such at the request of the Commission
4. This proof must be 'satisfactory proof' which shall consist of the following documentation:
  - a. Identify the licensee, title of course or challenge exam, course certification number, course provider, number of classroom hours, the completion date of the course or exam to include:
    - (1) Transcript of course
    - (2) Letter from provider verifying successful completion or course completion certificate.
    - (3) Identifying course certification approval number to establish the course is approved for CE credit.
    - (4) The Commission may, in its sole discretion, accept alternative documentation.
5. CE Auditing Program—Since the licensee now “self-certifies” that they have completed the required education on their renewal and activation forms rather than submitting actual course completion certificates at renewal time, the Commission implemented an “audit” program in which licensees are selected to provide their education records to prove their continuing education compliance. Failure to provide the required proof can result in the immediate inactivation of the license, and may subject the licensee to disciplinary action including suspension and civil fines.
6. Errors & Omissions Insurance (either the group plan offered from IREC or independent coverage)
  - a. Minimum E&O Coverage Requirements: See rules 117-122, and 54-2013, Idaho Code.
  - b. Effective September 1, 2002, active licensees no longer are required to submit the insurer-signed Certificate of Coverage when licensing or renewing. Instead, licensees will now “self-certify” that they have the required E&O coverage by completing the relevant portion of the license application form. The licensee self-certification is subject to audit. (This procedure is similar to that being used with the new Continuing Education self-certification process.)
  - c. Under the new E&O rules, licensees are still required to obtain and keep a “Certificate of Coverage, signed by an authorized agent or employee of the insurance carrier, reflecting proof of insurance meeting the requirements established by the Commission. Upon request by the Commission the licensee shall produce for inspection the Certificate of Insurance.”

2006-2007 INSPECTION STATISTICS

H. Violation Citation Program

The intent of the Citation Program is to motivate the broker to take care of the administrative issues required by license law. During the Inspector's audit of an office, if certain numbers and types of License Law or rule violations are noted within a category, the inspector will write the designated broker a citation for those violations which will carry a mandated civil fine.

The Inspector will continue to assist the broker with understanding the requirements of the various laws and rules, however, if excess numbers of violations are noted, the broker will be given a Citation that will disclose the specific violation and the amount of the civil fine. The amount of civil fines range from $10 to $75 for the following categories: Licensing; Failure to Account for Funds; Commingling;

- Failure to Account - 3%
- Commingling - 2%
- Listings/Offers to Purchase - 9%
- Agency Disclosure - 30%

54-2062. Additional Grounds for Disciplinary Action—Other Administrative Actions—Licensee to Report to Commission.

1. The Commission may also take any disciplinary action, including, but not limited to, suspension or revocation of a license where the licensee:
  - a. Has an order or determination of debarment, suspension, or any limitation on participation in government loan programs issued against the licensee for misconduct; or
  - b. Has a license, issued by another jurisdiction, suspended or revoked for a disciplinary violation involving fraud, misrepresentation, or dishonest or dishonorable dealings. A certified copy of the order of the administrative agency in the other jurisdiction shall be prima facie evidence of the suspension or revocation.
2. A licensee against whom a final administrative action has been taken as described in subsection (1) of this section, shall, within twenty (20) days of such action, forward to the Commission a copy of the legal document evidencing the same.

M. Broker Supervision

1. The Designated Broker must be available to adequately supervise the day-to-day activities of the sales associates and unlicensed personnel in the real estate office. Brokers are fined for inadequate broker supervision for:
  - a. Allowing unlicensed associates to work when a license has expired, and not renewed in a timely manner.
  - b. Allowing a new licensee to work prior to the license actually being approved.

- c. Not notifying the Commission in writing if the broker will be gone for 21 days or more, or for not designating a new broker (and changing all licenses accordingly) if gone more than 60 days.

2. Brokers are ultimately responsible for what happens in the real estate office

CANCELLATION OR WITHDRAWAL OF LISTINGS

The relative rights of an owner or a broker to withdraw or cancel a listing agreement are determined by contract law and court decisions, and the facts in each case bear heavily on the result. As used in this guideline, the term "withdrawal" of a listing means that the contract remains in full force and effect, but the property is no longer marketed or offered for sale by the broker. The term "cancellation" of a listing shall mean that the contract is fully terminated, either with or without the broker's consent and with or without "good cause" on the part of the seller.

As a general proposition, an owner may, at any time, withdraw from the broker the authority to sell the property (i.e. stop offering it for sale). Some listing agreements specify a penalty for early, unilateral withdrawal of the property from sale by the owner. Even if no penalty is specified in the contract, the courts might award damages to a broker if the seller has acted unreasonably and the broker has acted in good faith.

When an owner cancels a listing agreement (as opposed to withdrawing the property from sale), the seller is essentially "breaking" the contract, even though it may be upheld in court as justifiable. Such a case may occur where the broker had already breached the contract in some manner.

If an agreement cannot be reached between the parties, it would be up to the courts to determine what "damages" (if any) should be awarded to the broker for early, unilateral cancellation of the listing agreement by an owner.

The Idaho Real Estate Commission usually cannot become involved in listing cancellation disputes. In some cases, the owner may legitimately want to cancel a listing agreement because the broker is not making a good effort to market the property. Other times, the broker may not want to release the owner from the listing agreement because the broker suspects that a buyer has been found (very possibly due to the broker's efforts) and now the seller simply does not want to pay for the services which the seller has received. The Commission does not have any legal authority to determine whether or not a seller's unilateral cancellation is appropriate.

OUT-OF-STATE REAL ESTATE AGENTS ACTING IN IDAHO

Out-of-state real estate brokers and sales associates who are NOT licensed as a broker or salesperson in Idaho should be aware of the following:

1. They may not enter Idaho to list, show, represent, or inspect Idaho property
2. They may not advertise Idaho property in Idaho.
3. They may not have a sign placed on Idaho property.
4. They may not make initial contact by phone or mail to any potential clients in Idaho.
5. They probably could not sue for a commission if the owner of the property decided not to pay the broker.
6. They could be punished by a fine of up to $5,000 and/or one (1) year in jail if acting as a broker or salesperson in Idaho without a license, and a limited liability company or a corporation could be fined up to $10,000.

This does not prevent an out-of-state broker or salesperson from cooperating with an Idaho broker on the sale of Idaho property. An out-of-state broker or salesperson may accompany an Idaho licensee who is doing any of the above, but may not participate in any activities requiring an Idaho license. In addition, a broker licensed in Idaho may share his/her commission with a broker licensed in another state as compensation for work done by the other broker in the other state.

No person engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of real estate broker or salesperson in Idaho shall bring or maintain any action in the courts for the collection of a fee, commission or other compensation for the performance of any acts requiring a real estate license as provided in section 54-2002, Idaho Code, without alleging and proving that such person was an actively licensed broker or salesperson in Idaho at the time the alleged cause of action arose.

(2) Fee--splitting with unlicensed persons prohibited. Unless otherwise allowed by statute or rule, a real estate broker, associate broker or salesperson licensed in the state of Idaho shall not pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received in the licensee's capacity as such in a regulated real estate transaction to any person who is not actively licensed as a real estate broker in Idaho or in another state or jurisdiction. The Idaho broker making the payment to another licensed person is responsible for verifying the active licensed status of the receiving broker. This section shall not prohibit payment of a part or share of a commission, fee or compensation by the broker to a legal business entity, all of whose shareholders, members or other persons having a similar ownership interest are active real estate licensees. An Idaho licensee may pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received, directly to the buyer or seller in the real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner which would directly or indirectly create a double contract, as defined in this chapter or which would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction regarding the source of funds used to complete the real estate transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligations of the buyer.

(3) Finder's fees prohibited. Any offer of monetary value, by an Idaho licensee, to any person who is not licensed in Idaho or any state or jurisdiction, made for the purpose of inducing such unlicensed person to secure prospects to buy, sell, option, or otherwise dispose of an interest in real property shall be considered to be splitting fees with an unlicensed person, and is prohibited.

(4) Interference with real estate brokerage agreement prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person, licensed or unlicensed, to interfere with the contractual relationship between a broker and a client. Communicating a company's relocation policy or benefits to a transferring employee or consumer shall not be considered a violation of this subsection so long as the communication does not involve advice or encouragement on how to terminate or amend an existing contractual relationship between a broker and client.

(8) After-the-fact referral fees prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person to solicit or request a referral fee or similar payment from a licensed Idaho real estate broker or sales associate, for the referral of a buyer or seller in connection with a regulated real estate transaction, unless the person seeking the referral fee has reasonable cause. "Reasonable cause" shall not exist unless:

(a) The person seeking the referral fee has a written contractual relationship with the Idaho real estate broker for a referral fee or similar payment; and

(b) The contractual relationship providing for the referral fee exists at the time the buyer or seller purportedly referred by such person signs a written agreement with the Idaho broker for the listing of the real estate or for representation by the broker, or the buyer signs an offer to purchase the real estate involved in the transaction. It shall be unlawful for any person including, but not limited to, a relocation company or company with a relocation policy or benefits, to directly or indirectly threaten to or actually reduce or withhold promised or expected employee or customer relocation benefits from a buyer or seller in a regulated real estate transaction based upon a broker's participation in payment of a referral fee or other fee.

54-2058. Authority to Investigate and Discipline.

(1) General authority to investigate. The Commission may investigate the action of any person engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of real estate broker or salesperson within the state of Idaho, or any person believed to have acted as a real estate broker or salesperson without a license in violation of section 54-2002, Idaho Code. Upon receipt of a written complaint from anyone who claims to have been injured or defrauded as a result of such action, or upon information received by the Executive Director, the Executive Director shall perform an investigation of the facts alleged against such real estate broker or salesperson or such unlicensed person. Prior to the initiation of any proceedings for the revocation or suspension of a license, or for such other disciplinary actions as set forth in section 54-2059, Idaho Code, the Executive Director shall transmit to the Commission a report, in writing, signed by the Executive Director, setting forth the facts alleged against such real estate broker or salesperson or unlicensed person. Upon receiving such report, the Commission shall make an examination of all the facts and circumstances connected with such report. If the facts set forth in the report are deemed insufficient by the Commission, no further action shall be taken, unless the Executive Director resubmits the report with additional facts supporting the filing of an administrative complaint. Should the Commission deem that the facts set forth in the report are sufficient to proceed with a formal action, the Commission shall authorize the filing of an administrative complaint against such person. A person is acting "within the state of Idaho" if that person is dealing with any interest in real property or a business opportunity involving an interest in real property, which is situated in this state, or is conducting or attempting to conduct or solicit real estate business with residents of the state of Idaho.

54-2064. Proof of Complaint B Prosecution by County Prosecuting Attorney.

The Commission may prefer a complaint for violation of any section of this chapter before any court of competent jurisdiction. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney of each county in the state to prosecute all violations of the provisions of this chapter in their respective counties in which the violations occur.

54-2065. Penalty for Acting as a Broker or Salesperson Without License.

Any person acting as a real estate broker or real estate salesperson within the meaning of this chapter without a license as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, if a natural person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed one (1) year, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court or if a limited liability company or corporation, by a fine of not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). Additionally, the court may assess a civil penalty against a natural person in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), and against a limited liability company or corporation, in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). All civil penalties shall be credited to the special real estate fund.

REGULAR EMPLOYEE STATUS DETERMINATION

1. Federal income tax is withheld from the employee's regular paycheck and paid to the federal government by the employer.
2. State income tax is withheld from the employee's regular paycheck and paid to the state government by the employer.
3. Social Security (FICA) tax is withheld from the employee's regular paycheck and that plus the contribution from the employer is paid to the Internal Revenue Service by the employer.
4. Workman's Compensation Insurance is paid by the employer to the State Insurance Fund or private insurance company on behalf of the employee.
5. State Unemployment Insurance is paid by the employer to the State Department of Employment on behalf of the employee.
6. Employee is covered by state or federal minimum wage laws.

Note: These criteria are considered by the Commission in determining whether or not a person is a "regular employee" as that term is used in the Idaho Real Estate License Law and Rules.

DISCLOSURE OF TRANSACTION FEES – WHEN REQUIRED

The Commission has received questions concerning the circumstances under which a brokerage is required to disclose, to all parties, the fact that it is charging or receiving a transaction fee. The inquiries pertain to the application of Section 54-2054(7), Idaho Code.

This provision requires that, whenever the brokerage is receiving “compensation” “from more than one party” (e.g., when the brokerage is receiving compensation from both the buyer and the seller), the brokerage must make a “full disclosure in writing” “to all parties.”

When Disclosure Is Required.

The statute's disclosure requirement is triggered only where the brokerage is going to receive compensation from the buyer and the seller. If the broker is being paid by only one of the parties, then disclosure is not required.

The brokerage's agency (and non-agency) relationships have no direct bearing on the application of the statute. If the broker is receiving compensation from both the buyer and the seller, the broker is required to make the disclosure, regardless of whether the broker is representing both parties (e.g., in-house transaction), or whether the broker is representing only one party (e.g., the other party is working with or being represented by a different broker).

The following scenarios demonstrate how the statute is applied:

A. The listing broker is getting a portion of the brokerage fee from the seller and a transaction fee, also from the seller. Because the listing broker is receiving compensation from only one party to the transaction, the disclosure requirement does NOT apply.

B. The listing brokerage is getting a transaction fee from the buyer (even though the buyer is represented by another office), and the listing brokerage is also getting a portion of the brokerage fee from the seller. Because the listing brokerage will be receiving compensation from each party, the listing brokerage IS required to make the written disclosure to all parties.

C. The listing broker is not the buyer's broker. The listing broker receives only a portion of the brokerage fee from the seller (as provided in the MLS agreement), and charges no fee to the buyer. However, the buyer's broker receives a portion of the brokerage fee from the seller, and also receives a transaction fee from the buyer. Because the buyer's broker is receiving compensation from the buyer (transaction fee) and the seller (portion of the brokerage fee), the buyer's broker must make the disclosure to all parties. However, because the listing broker is receiving compensation from the seller only, the listing broker is NOT required to make the disclosure.

D. The buyer's broker receives a portion of the brokerage fee from the seller (as provided in the MLS agreement), and charges no other transaction fee or commission to the buyer. The same broker enters a separate agreement with the buyer to provide additional services outside of the purchase and sale transaction, e.g., as a professional consultant/representative for the buyer in the planning a zoning permitting process, or as a property manager. The statute would NOT be triggered, and the broker would NOT have to disclose that he is receiving compensation from outside consulting services or property management services. Although the broker clearly is charging/accepting “compensation” from someone who is a party in the transaction, that compensation is not being charged/accepted “in the one (1) transaction,” but for services performed outside of the transaction.

Form and Content of the Disclosure

Where disclosure is required, it must be made “in writing.” There is no requirement that it be made in any particular form, or contained in any particular document. Whatever form is used, the Commission strongly advises the broker to obtain the parties' initials or signatures and dates to document that the required disclosure was in fact made.

The statute does not dictate the contents of the disclosure and the Commission prescribes none. However, for audit purposes, the Commission will deem the requirement satisfied by a written statement, provided to and acknowledged by both parties, containing the following: "In this transaction, this brokerage will be receiving compensation in the form of a commission and/or transaction fee from both the Buyer and the Seller."

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2054. Compensation, Commissions and Fees – Prohibited Conduct.

(7) Compensation from more than one party. No licensed real estate broker or salesperson shall charge or accept compensation from more than one (1) party in any one (1) transaction, without first making full disclosure in writing of the broker's intent to do so, to all parties involved in the transaction.

GUARANTEED SALES PLANS (GSPs)

A "guaranteed sales plan" (GSP) is defined as a written agreement between a broker and a seller whereby the broker agrees to purchase the seller's property within a specified period of time and at a specified price if the property is not sold in accordance with the terms of the listing or on other terms acceptable to the seller.

This Guideline is intended to advise licensees how to advertise GSP's without being misleading or creating misunderstanding.

1. No broker should offer any GSP or enter into any GSP unless the broker has adequate financial resources to meet the commitment. A broker offering a GSP should, if requested, provide to the seller proof that the broker has sufficient financial resources to satisfy his/her commitment.
2. Every Guaranty Sales agreement should be in writing and contain all of the conditions and other terms under which the property is guaranteed to be sold or purchased, including the charges or other costs for the service or plan, the price for which the property will be sold or purchased and the approximate net proceeds the seller may reasonably expect to receive.
3. A GSP should include a provision clearly stating that the broker's obligation to purchase property is enforceable only at the option of the seller.
4. A broker offering a GSP should give good market exposure to each property covered by any such plan, and shall present to the seller all offers received for each property, up to and until the time of closing of the guaranteed sale.
5. Advertising. A broker offering a GSP is free to advertise and promote the plan as a service of the broker available to sellers who qualify. However, a broker may NOT advertise the plan in a manner that is likely to mislead the seller to believe that the plan is available without restriction or costs, unless the plan is indeed available without restriction or costs. Any advertisement of a GSP should include a conspicuous statement advising prospective sellers that if the seller is eligible, costs and restrictions will apply (unless none do), and advising the seller to inquire of the licensee as to the terms of the GSP.
6. Disclosures. Prior to taking any listing a broker offering a GSP should provide in writing to the prospective seller all of the details of such plan. These details should include the exact price that the broker will actually pay to purchase the property, or else the precise formula that will be used to determine that price, including an itemization of any and all costs taken into account in determining that price. These details should also include the exact circumstances under which the commitment to purchase will be honored, and the reason(s) for any difference between the listing price and the price which the broker agrees to pay.
7. The broker who advertises a GSP should, prior to taking any listing, advise the seller whether the seller qualifies for the plan, and if so, explain any restrictions, conditions and costs that apply to the seller. The broker is advised to obtain a signed written confirmation from the seller that the terms of the GSP have been explained, and that the seller understands that he does/does not qualify for the plan.
8. Brokers may NOT use a GSP as a misleading advertisement or as a false inducement to obtain a listing. A broker advertising a GSP, or any other product or service, should be familiar with the state laws protecting consumers from unfair and misleading advertising, namely, section 54-2053(4) of the Idaho Real Estate License Law, and the Attorney General's Rules of Consumer Protection. Excerpts from these advertising laws are set forth below.

Idaho Real Estate License Law.

Section 54-2053(4) of the Real Estate License Law provides:

No advertising shall provide any information to the public or to prospective customers or clients which is misleading in nature. Information is misleading if, when taken as a whole, there is a distinct probability that such information will deceive the persons whom it is intended to influence.

Idaho Rules of Consumer Protection:

The Attorney General's Office has promulgated comprehensive Rules of Consumer Protection. Although many of the Rules deal with specific products (e.g., automobiles), there are some general rules defining and prohibiting unfair and deceptive practices, including "bait and switch" practices. Violations of the Rules of Consumer Protection are pursued by the Office of Attorney General; however, those Rules may provide useful guidance to the Commission in determining whether a particular advertising practice is "misleading" within the meaning of the License Law

.Subchapter E, Rule 50, of the Consumer Protection Rules states that, "It is an unfair and deceptive act or practice for a seller to engage in bait-and-switch sales tactics." "Bait and switch" is defined to mean:

Advertising goods or services with the intent not to sell them but to lure the consumer to the seller's place of business and then switch the consumer from buying the advertised goods or services to other or different goods or services on a basis more advantageous to the seller.

The Rules regarding "bait and switch" further provide:

051. INITIAL OFFER (Rule 51).

It is an unfair and deceptive act or practice for a seller to create a false impression of the grade, quality, quantity, make, value, age, size, color, usability, availability, or origin of the goods or services offered, or which may otherwise misrepresent the goods or services in such a manner that later, on disclosure of the true facts, there is a likelihood that the consumer may be switched from the advertised goods or services to other goods or services. Even though the true facts are subsequently made known to the consumer, Subchapter E is violated if the first contact or interview is secured by a bait-and-switch offer.

052. DISCOURAGEMENT OF PURCHASE OF ADVERTISED MERCHANDISE (Rule 52).

It is an unfair and deceptive act or practice for a seller to discourage the purchase of the advertised goods or services as part of a bait-and-switch scheme to sell other goods or services. For example, among acts or practices which will be considered in determining if an advertisement is a bona fide offer are:

01. Refusal To Show. The refusal to reasonably show, demonstrate, or sell the goods or services advertised or otherwise offered in accordance with the terms of the initial offer.

02. Disparagement. The disparagement by acts or words of the advertised goods or services or disparagement with respect to the guarantee, credit terms, availability of service, repairs, or parts, or in any other respect, in connection with the advertised goods or services.

03. Availability. The failure to have available at all outlets listed in the advertisement a sufficient quantity of the advertised goods or services to meet reasonably expected public demand, as defined in CPR 103, unless the advertisement clearly and conspicuously discloses that the supply of a particular good is limited and/or the goods or services are available only at designated outlets, or unless the advertisement discloses that a particular good is to be closed out or offered for a limited time. Issuing of "rain checks" of goods or offering comparable or better goods at the sale price will be considered a mitigating circumstance, unless there is a pattern of inadequate inventory or the inadequate inventory was intentional.

04. Refusal To Take Orders. The refusal to take orders for the advertised goods or services to be delivered within a reasonable period of time.

05. Showing Impractical Goods Or Services. The showing or demonstrating of goods or services which are defective, unusable, or impractical for the purpose represented or implied in the advertisement.

06. Compensation Plans. The use of a sales plan or method of compensation for salesmen which is designed to prevent or discourage them from selling the advertised goods or services. This does not prohibit compensating salesmen by use of a commission.

053. SWITCH AFTER SALE (Rule 53). In the event of a sale of the advertised goods or services, it is an unfair and deceptive act or practice for a seller to attempt to "unsell" the advertised goods or services with the intent and purpose of selling other goods or services in their stead, except when the parties are bargaining for a bona fide trade-in.

054. PATTERN OF CONDUCT (Rule 54).The fact that a seller occasionally sells the advertised goods or services at the advertised price shall not constitute a defense to a charge that the seller has engaged in bait-and-switch tactics.

055. LEADER ITEMS (Rule 55).Nothing in Subchapter E shall prevent a seller from advertising goods and services with the hope that consumers will buy goods or services in addition to those advertised.

GUIDELINES FOR “SUSPENDED” BROKERS

Idaho’s license laws impose certain duties and consequences upon the salesperson or broker whose license is “suspended” as part of a disciplinary action taken pursuant to the Commission’s “Disciplinary Powers” or “suspended” under the statute’s “Automatic Suspension” provisions. This Guideline is intended to outline those duties and consequences. (This Guideline is not intended to address a situation in which the license has “expired” after the license period has elapsed and the license is not renewed.)

1. A person whose license is suspended is in the same position as an unlicensed person. Such person may not engage in any real estate activity that requires a real estate license, e.g., he or she may not list, sell, buy, or negotiate, or offer to list, sell or buy or negotiate the purchase, sale, option or exchange of real estate.
2. The person whose license is suspended may receive compensation during the suspended period only for acts performed during the period in which the person was properly licensed. For example, if the person negotiated a sale during the licensed period, the person may receive payment for performance of those acts even though the sale closes during the suspended period.
3. If the suspended person is a broker, any transaction that is closed during the period of suspension must be finalized by either another broker, an attorney, a title company, or a financial institution.
4. All advertising naming the suspended person, including but not limited to signs on office buildings and on “for sale” properties, must be removed. All evidence of the person’s licensure must be removed from public view.
5. If the suspended person is the broker, and if no other broker is designated to act for the brokerage company, the office must be closed during the period of suspension, and the licenses of all associated licensees will be made inactive by the Commission. Telephone service should be canceled, or the telephone must be answered by indicating to all callers that the office is closed due to the suspension of the broker’s real estate license.
6. If the suspended person is the designated broker for a licensed business entity, the law grants the entity ten (10) days to designate a new broker. If no new broker is designated within the statutory period, the license of the entity is terminated, and the licenses of all associated licensees are inactivated by the Commission.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2002. LICENSURE REQUIRED.

No person shall engage in the business or act in the capacity of real estate broker or real estate salesperson in this state without an active Idaho real estate license therefore. Unless exempted from this chapter, any single act described within the definitions of "real estate broker" or "real estate salesperson" shall be sufficient to constitute "engaging in the business" within the meaning of this chapter. Any person who engages in the business or acts in the capacity of real estate broker or salesperson in this state, with or without an Idaho real estate license, has thereby submitted to the jurisdiction of the state of Idaho and to the administrative jurisdiction of the Idaho Real Estate Commission, and shall be subject to all penalties and remedies available under Idaho law for any violation of this chapter.

54-2004. DEFINITIONS.

As used in this chapter: (17) "Real estate broker" means and includes: (a) Any person other than a real estate salesperson, who, directly or indirectly, while acting for another, for compensation or a promise or an expectation thereof, engages in any of the following sells, lists, buys, or negotiates, or offers to sell, list, buy or negotiate the purchase, sale, option or exchange of real estate or any interest therein or business opportunity or interest therein for others. (b) Any actively licensed broker while, directly or indirectly, acting on the broker's own behalf; (c) Any person who represents to the public that the person is engaged in any of the above activities; (d) Any person who directly or indirectly engages in, directs, or takes any part in the procuring of prospects, or in the negotiating or closing of any transaction which does or is calculated to result in any of the acts above set forth. (e) A dealer in options as defined in this section. (18) "Real estate salesperson" or "salesperson" means any person who has qualified and is licensed as a real estate salesperson in Idaho under this chapter, and is licensed under, associated with, and represents a designated broker in the performance of acts requiring a real estate license in Idaho.

54-2039. BROKER AND BRANCH OFFICE MANAGER ABSENCES AND CHANGES.

Each real estate brokerage company must have a legally qualified individual acting as designated broker at all times. Each branch office licensed under section 54-2016(4), Idaho Code, shall have, at all times, a legally qualified individual acting as branch office manager. (3) Change of broker in business entity. A license issued to a legal business entity, as defined in this chapter, is effective only as long as the individual designated broker's license is in active status and in effect. If the individual so designated has a license refused, revoked, suspended or otherwise made inactive by the commission, or if the individual designated broker voluntarily surrenders the individual license or ceases to be connected with the entity in the manner required in this chapter, the business entity shall have ten (10) business days in which to designate another qualified individual as designated broker before the entity's license is terminated, and the licenses of all associated licensees are made inactive.

54-2054. COMPENSATION, COMMISSIONS AND FEES - PROHIBITED CONDUCT.

(1) Court action for fee collection. No person engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of real estate broker or salesperson in Idaho shall bring or maintain any action in the courts for the collection of a fee, commission or other compensation for the performance of any acts requiring a real estate license as provided in section 54-2002, Idaho Code, without alleging and proving that such person was an actively licensed broker or salesperson in Idaho at the time the alleged cause of action arose.

(2) Fee-splitting with unlicensed persons prohibited. Unless otherwise allowed by statute or rule, a real estate broker, associate broker or salesperson licensed in the state of Idaho shall not pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received in the licensee's capacity as such in a regulated real estate transaction to any person who is not actively licensed as a real estate broker in Idaho or in another state or jurisdiction. The Idaho broker making the payment to another licensed person is responsible for verifying the active licensed status of the receiving broker. This section shall not prohibit payment of a part or share of a commission, fee or compensation by the broker to legal business entity, all of whose shareholders, members or other persons having a similar ownership interest are active real estate licensees. An Idaho licensee may pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received, directly to the buyer or seller in the real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner which would directly or indirectly create a double contract, as defined in this chapter or which would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction regarding the source of funds used to complete the real estate transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligations of the buyer.

54-2059. DISCIPLINARY POWERS -- REVOCATION, SUSPENSION OR OTHER DISCIPLINARY ACTION.

1) The Commission may temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this chapter, issue a formal reprimand and impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), and assess costs and attorney's fees for the cost of any investigation and administrative or other proceedings against any licensee who is found to have violated any section of the Idaho Code, the Commission's administrative rules or any order of the Commission. The executive director may issue informal letters of reprimand to licensees without civil penalty or cost assessment.

54-2060. GROUNDS FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION.

A person found guilty of misconduct while performing or attempting to perform any act requiring an Idaho real estate broker or salesperson's license, regardless of whether the act was for the person's own account or in his capacity as broker or salesperson, shall be subject to disciplinary action by the Commission. The following acts shall constitute misconduct within the meaning of this section:

- (1) Making fraudulent misrepresentations;
- (2) Engaging in a continued or flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises, whether done personally or through agents or salespersons;
- (3) Failure to account for or remit any property, real or personal, or moneys coming into the person's possession which belong to another;
- (4) Failure to keep adequate records of all property transactions in which the person acts in the capacity of real estate broker or salesperson;
- (5) Failure or refusal, upon lawful demand, to disclose any information within the person's knowledge, or to produce any documents, books or records in the person's possession for inspection by the commission or its authorized representative;
- (6) Acting as a real estate broker or salesperson under an assumed name;
- (7) Employment of fraud, deception, misrepresentation, misstatement or any unlawful means in applying for or securing a license to act as a real estate broker or salesperson in the state of Idaho;
- (8) Using, proposing to use, or agreeing to use a "double contract" as prohibited in section 54-2054(5), Idaho Code;
- (9) Seeking or receiving a "kickback" or rebate prohibited in section 54-2054(6), Idaho Code;
- (10) Violation of any provision of sections 54-2001 through 54-2097, Idaho Code, or any administrative rule made or promulgated by the commission or any final order of the commission;
- (11) Any other conduct whether of the same or a different character than hereinabove specified which constitutes dishonest or dishonorable dealings;
- (12) Gross negligence or reckless conduct in a regulated real estate transaction. Conduct is grossly negligent or reckless if, when taken as a whole, it is conduct which substantially fails to meet the generally accepted standard of care in the practice of real estate in Idaho.

54-2061. ADDITIONAL GROUNDS FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION -- COURT ACTIONS.

(1) The Commission may also take disciplinary action against a licensee including, but not limited to, suspension or revocation of a license, where, in a court of competent jurisdiction, the licensee:

- (a) Has been convicted of a felony, or has been convicted of a misdemeanor involving fraud, misrepresentation, or dishonest or dishonorable dealing or which otherwise demonstrates the licensee's lack of trustworthiness to engage in the real estate business;
- (b) Has been declared to lack capacity or to be incompetent or under an infirmity, for the duration of such declaration only;

(c) Has a judgment entered against the licensee in a civil action upon grounds of fraud, misrepresentation, deceit or gross negligence with reference to a real estate-related transaction.

(2) The court's record of conviction, order determining legal competency, or the order entering judgment in a civil case, or certified copies thereof, shall be prima facie evidence of a conviction, or the court's action.

54-2062. ADDITIONAL GROUNDS FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION -- OTHER ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS.

The Commission may also take any disciplinary action, including, but not limited to, suspension or revocation of a license where the licensee:

(1) Has an order or determination of debarment, suspension, or any limitation on participation in government loan programs issued against the licensee for misconduct; or

(2) Has a license, issued by another jurisdiction, suspended or revoked for a disciplinary violation involving fraud, misrepresentation, or dishonest or dishonorable dealings. A certified copy of the order of the administrative agency in the other jurisdiction shall be prima facie evidence of the suspension or revocation.

54-2074. AUTOMATIC SUSPENSION OF BROKER'S, ASSOCIATE BROKER'S OR SALESPERSON'S LICENSE ON PAYMENT BY COMMISSION -- CONDITION FOR LICENSE REINSTATEMENT.

If, pursuant to court order, the Commission pays from the recovery fund any amount in settlement of a claim or towards satisfaction of a judgment against a licensed broker, associate broker or salesperson, the license of such broker, associate broker or salesperson shall be automatically suspended without further order of the Commission upon the effective date of any order by the court as set forth herein authorizing payment from the recovery fund. No such broker, associate broker or salesperson shall be granted reinstatement until he has repaid in full, the amount so paid from the recovery fund plus interest at the legal rate of interest allowable by law for judgments.

APPROVED ESCROW HOLDERS

The following entities are “approved escrow depositories” within the context of Idaho Code, section 54-2042(1) and (8) of the Idaho Real Estate License Law and Rules:

1. A state or federally chartered bank and/or trust company;
2. A state or federally chartered savings and loan;
3. A properly licensed title company;
4. An actively licensed attorney at law;
5. Other entities specifically approved by the Commission:

Any other entity wishing to be considered as an “approved escrow depository” should submit the following information:

1. Corporate financial structure;
2. Amount and terms of errors and omissions insurance and any bonding;
3. Copy of last audit and financial statement;
4. If the entity or person is regulated (or has been issued some type of license), send a copy of that license or certificate;
5. Any other information which will help the Commission make its determination.

The broker is responsible for all entrusted funds, regardless of where they are deposited. Refer also to Guideline #15 on establishing real estate trust accounts.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2042. Creation Of Noninterest-bearing Trust Accounts-Requirements.

A broker may establish one (1) or more real estate trust accounts but each account must meet all requirements of this chapter, including the following:

(1) Each trust account must be established at an approved depository and must be noninterest-bearing, except as allowed in section 54-2043, Idaho Code, or as otherwise may be provided by law. Approved depositories are state or federally chartered banks and trust companies, state or federally chartered savings and loan associations, properly licensed title insurance companies in Idaho, or an actively licensed attorney at law in Idaho.

(8) An entity not specified as an approved escrow depository in subsection (1) of this section, may be accepted and approved by the Commission as an escrow depository upon disclosure of the following:

- (a) The details of the entity’s financial structure;
- (b) The amount and terms of Errors and Omissions insurance and any bonding;
- (c) A copy of the entity’s last audit and financial statement;
- (d) A copy of any license or certificate issued to the entity; and
- (e) Any other information which will help the Commission make its determination.

TERMS UNDER WHICH RENTAL OR LEASE FEES MAY BE SPLIT WITH NONLICENSED PERSONS

Compensation (commissions) received by a licensed real estate broker or a salesperson for leasing or renting real property may be split or shared with nonlicensed persons.

However, if the lease or rental agreement includes any provision which requires the licensee to act in the capacity of a real estate licensee, then the compensation may not be split with any nonlicensed person, with the exception of the buyer or seller in the transaction, as provided in section 54-2054(2). Some examples of lease provisions which require a real estate license are as follows:

1. An option to purchase;
2. A definite purchase agreement at the end of the lease term (a lease/purchase agreement); or
3. A first right of refusal.
4. For any other questionable practice, the Idaho Real Estate Commission should be contacted for clarification.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2054. Splitting Fees with Non-licensed Persons Prohibited.

(2) Fee-splitting with unlicensed persons prohibited. Unless otherwise allowed by statute or rule, a real estate broker, associate broker or salesperson licensed in the state of Idaho shall not pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received in the licensee's capacity as such in a regulated real estate transaction to any person who is not actively licensed as a real estate broker in Idaho or in another state or jurisdiction. The Idaho broker making the payment to another licensed person is responsible for verifying the active licensed status of the receiving broker. This section shall not prohibit payment of a part or share of a commission, fee or compensation by the broker to a legal business entity, all of whose shareholders, members or other persons having a similar ownership interest are active real estate licensees. An Idaho licensee may pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received, directly to the buyer or seller in the real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner which would directly or indirectly create a double contract, as defined in this chapter or which would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction regarding the source of funds used to complete the real estate transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligations of the buyer.

Therefore, if the compensation received by the licensee is for an act which requires the licensee to act in the capacity of a real estate licensee, the compensation may not be split with nonlicensed persons, unless that person is the seller or buyer, and is a party to the contract.

SPLITTING FEES WITH NONLICENSED PERSONS PROHIBITED

A licensee may not offer anything of monetary value to a nonlicensee for the purpose of inducing that person to secure prospective buyers or sellers. If there is "intent" by the licensee to compensate the nonlicensee for a referral of customers and/or the nonlicensee expects to be compensated for referring customers (either buyers or sellers), then it would appear that a violation of the Idaho Real Estate License Law and Rules exists.

Presentation of a relatively inexpensive "gift" to a nonlicensee in a gesture of gratitude is not prohibited if the "gift" has not been predisposed to (and is not expected by) the nonlicensee.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2054. Compensation, Commissions and Fees-Prohibited Conduct.

(3) Finder's fees prohibited. Any offer of monetary value, by an Idaho licensee, to any person who is not licensed in Idaho or any state or jurisdiction, made for the purpose of inducing such unlicensed person to secure prospects to buy, sell, option, or otherwise dispose of an interest in real property shall be considered to be splitting fees with an unlicensed person, and is prohibited.

OFFICES WITH SIMILAR BUSINESS NAMES OPERATING AT THE SAME ADDRESS

These guidelines apply under the following circumstances:

1. More than one broker licensed at the same address;
2. The brokers do not want to be associated through licensure with the other brokers;
3. The brokers are licensed separately and not associated with the other brokers; and,
4. The separately licensed brokers are all operating with somewhat similar business names.

When the above conditions exist, the brokers must comply with section 54-2040(3), Idaho Code, which states:

54 2040. Main Office or Business Location.

(3) Brokers sharing same business location. More than one (1) individually licensed broker may operate an office at the same address only if each broker operates under a business name which clearly identifies the broker as an individual within the group of brokers, and each broker shall maintain his or her records and trust accounts separate from all other brokers.

The following requirements must be met in order to be in compliance:

1. Each broker must maintain his or her real estate trust account separate and apart from the other brokers;
2. Each broker must maintain his or her records separate and apart from the other brokers;
3. Each broker must maintain all trust account and transaction records at the office where licensed;
4. All advertising must specify that each licensed brokerage (office) is separately owned and separately licensed;
and
5. Each broker must operate under a business name which indicates that his or her office is a separate entity from the others.

Idaho Real Estate License Law allows separately licensed brokers to operate under a common business name if, in addition to the common business name, each broker also uses a separate individual name. Separate brokers operating out of the same office and using a "common business name" must include a separate individual name for each broker along with the common business name.

Example:

Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith each want to be licensed separately as individual brokers doing business under a common business name of First International Realty. The complete business name of Mr. Jones might be First International Realty - Jones Brokerage. The complete business name of Mr. Smith might be First International Realty - Bill Smith Agency or First International Realty Pine Tree Company or First International Realty/Black Cat and Associates.

OFFERING INCENTIVES TO POTENTIAL SELLERS OR BUYERS

Section 54-2054(2), Idaho Code, allows a broker to share any part of a commission, fee or compensation received with the buy or seller in a real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner that would directly or indirectly create a double contract, or would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction, regarding the source of the funds used to complete the transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligation of the buyer or seller.

Splitting fees with unlicensed person (bird dog fees) who are not a party to the transaction, is prohibited.

Section 54-2054(6), Idaho Code, prohibits licensees from receiving “illegal” kickbacks and rebates from title insurance companies, escrow companies and lenders.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2054. Compensation, Commissions and Fees B Prohibited Conduct.

(2) Fee-splitting with unlicensed persons prohibited. Unless otherwise allowed by statute or rule, a real estate broker, associate broker or salesperson licensed in the state of Idaho shall not pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received in the licensee's capacity as such in a regulated real estate transaction to any person who is not actively licensed as a real estate broker in Idaho or in another state or jurisdiction. The Idaho broker making the payment to another licensed person is responsible for verifying the active licensed status of the receiving broker. This section shall not prohibit payment of a part or share of a commission, fee or compensation by the broker to a legal business entity, all of whose shareholders, members or other persons having a similar ownership interest are active real estate licensees. An Idaho licensee may pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received, directly to the buyer or seller in the real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner which would directly or indirectly create a double contract, as defined in this chapter or which would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction regarding the source of funds used to complete the real estate transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligations of the buyer.

(6) Kickbacks and rebates prohibited. No licensed real estate broker or salesperson shall receive a kickback or rebate for directing any transaction to any individual for financing. A licensee shall not receive a kickback or unearned fee for directing any transaction to any lending institution, escrow or title company, as those practices are defined and prohibited by the real estate settlement and procedures act of 1974, as amended, 12 U.S.C. section 2601 et seq. However, a licensee legally receiving any fee or rebate from any person providing direct services to either the buyer or the seller in connection with a regulated real estate transaction is required to disclose the licensee's intent to receive such fee, rebate or compensation in writing to all parties to the transaction prior to closing.

DISPUTED EARNEST MONEY

One of the most common types of complaints brought to the attention of the Commission concerns disputed earnest money. When a situation involving disputed earnest money occurs, the broker should first try to obtain a settlement agreement signed by the buyer and the seller releasing the broker from the custody of such money and instructing the broker as to the proper disbursement of same.

The Commission is aware of the fact that, in most cases involving disputed earnest money, the buyer and seller are not getting along and, in such cases, it is impossible for the broker to obtain a settlement statement signed by both parties as contemplated above which forces the broker to use the next alternative of relying on the provisions of the purchase and sale agreement (forfeiture clauses and/or contingency clauses).

The broker may rely on the wording of a properly executed purchase and sale agreement under which said money was originally taken and which describes the manner in which division of funds shall occur in the event one of the parties fails to fulfill the terms of the contract.

In the event a broker disburses the earnest money in accordance with the terms of the purchase and sale agreement, the broker should, of course, keep accurate documentation in his/her files as to why the money was disbursed. Also, prior to such disbursement, the broker should notify both parties in writing as to the broker's intentions. If the broker has made his or her best effort to accomplish all of the above, but still cannot determine how the earnest money should be disbursed, the parties involved should be notified that the money is being held in the trust account until the broker is ordered to disburse such funds by a court of competent jurisdiction (as required by section 54-2047(1), (2), and (3), Idaho Code).

It should be kept in mind that the broker may be found civilly liable to the party not receiving the funds if the broker disburses the funds in a manner found to be inconsistent with the terms of the purchase and sale agreement.

Unless the broker has acted in a reckless manner by improperly holding or disbursing the earnest money, the Commission will not get involved in this type of problem. It is up to the buyer and seller to reach agreement concerning the problem or to get the matter resolved in civil court. If the dispute involves $4,000.00 or less, then, in many cases, it may be handled in Small Claims Court. It is the broker's responsibility to use his or her best efforts to get the dispute resolved between the buyer and the seller.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2047. Disputed Earnest Money.

- (1) Any time more than one (1) party to a transaction makes demand on funds or other consideration for which the broker is responsible, such as, but not limited to, earnest money deposits, the broker shall:
  - a) Notify each party, in writing, of the demand of the other party; and
  - b) Keep all parties to the transaction informed of any actions by the broker regarding the disputed funds or other consideration, including retention of the funds by the broker until the dispute is properly resolved.
- (2) The broker may reasonably rely on the terms of the purchase and sale agreement or other written documents signed by both parties to determine how to disburse the disputed money and may, at the broker's own discretion, make such disbursement. Discretionary disbursement by the broker based on a reasonable review of the known facts is not a violation of license law, but may subject the broker to civil liability.
- (3) If the broker does not believe it is reasonably possible to disburse the disputed funds, the broker may hold the funds until ordered by a court of proper jurisdiction to make a disbursement. The broker shall give all parties written notice of any decision to hold the funds pending a court order for disbursement.

ESTABLISHING REAL ESTATE TRUST ACCOUNTS

This guideline has been prepared because routine audits, inspections, and office visits in the field continue to indicate that there is confusion concerning what constitutes a real estate trust account, where trust accounts may be established, and how they should be established and managed.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2041. Trust Accounts and Entrusted Property.

- (1) A licensed Idaho real estate broker shall be responsible for all moneys or property entrusted to that broker or to any licensee representing the broker.
- (2) Immediately upon receipt, the broker shall deposit entrusted moneys in a neutral, qualified trust fund account in Idaho, and shall properly care for any entrusted property.
- (3) Only moneys relating to a regulated real estate transaction may be deposited in the broker's real estate trust fund account. Entrusted moneys shall not be commingled with the moneys of the broker, firm or agent, except for that minimum amount that may be required to open and maintain the trust account or as otherwise allowed by subsection (7) of section 54-2042, Idaho Code.
- (4) The real estate broker shall remain fully responsible and accountable for all entrusted moneys and property until a full accounting has been given to the parties involved.

54-2042. Creation of Non-Interest-bearing Trust Accounts B Requirements.

A broker may establish one (1) or more real estate trust accounts but each account must meet all requirements of this chapter, including the following:

- (1) Each trust account must be established at an approved depository, and must be non-interest-bearing, except as allowed in section 54-2043, Idaho Code, or as otherwise may be provided by law. Approved depositories are state or federally chartered banks and trust companies, state or federally chartered savings and loan associations, properly licensed title insurance companies, or an actively licensed attorney at law.
- (2) Each account must be identified by the term "real estate trust account," on checks, deposit slips, and with the depository.
- (3) Each trust account must be established and maintained under the licensed business name of the broker, and shall be under the full control of the broker.
- (4) Each broker trust account must have a separate and complete set of records, which must consist of a monthly accounting, deposits, charges, and withdrawals or checks, even if the moneys are on deposit with a title company, attorney or other approved depository. The broker is responsible for ensuring that these separate account records are provided by the depository.
- (5) Funds deposited in a real estate trust account must be subject to withdrawal on demand at the order or direction of the broker at all times, even if deposited with a title company or other approved depository.
- (6) A Commission-approved form giving notice of opening a trust account and giving authorization for the Commission to inspect the account must be completed for each trust account, signed by the broker and an officer of the bank or depository and returned to the Commission.
- (7) No deposits to the trust account shall be made of funds that belong to the broker or real estate firm, except that the broker may deposit broker or firm funds for the purpose of opening and maintaining the account and for the payment of anticipated bank service charges for the trust account. In no event shall the balance of broker or firm funds in the account exceed three hundred dollars ($300). Maintenance funds shall not be disbursed for any purpose other than to cover bank charges charged directly to the trust account by the bank.

(8) An entity not specified as an approved escrow depository in subsection (1) of this section, may be accepted and approved by the Commission as an escrow depository upon disclosure of the following:

- (a) The details of the entity's financial structure;
- (b) The amount and terms of Errors and Omissions insurance and any bonding;
- (c) A copy of the entity's last audit and financial statement;
- (d) A copy of any license or certificate issued to the entity; and
- (e) Any other information which will help the Commission make its determination.

54-2043. Interest-bearing Trust Accounts.

The broker may deposit funds in a separate, interest-bearing trust account for a single transaction if directed in writing by both parties to the transaction, and only if the following additional requirements are met:

- (1) The interest-bearing trust account must be established in accordance with all requirements in section 54-2042, Idaho Code. However, the interest-bearing trust account shall be created at an approved depository in Idaho.
- (2) The deposit shall be made in the name of the broker, as described above, and each such account shall contain only the funds relating to one (1) transaction.
- (3) The interest-bearing trust account, when created for this purpose, must allow for withdrawal of the funds upon the broker's demand, unless all parties direct the broker in writing to do otherwise.
- (4) There must be a written agreement signed by both the buyer and the seller stating who is to receive the interest accrued from the deposit. This agreement is to be retained by the responsible broker in the transaction file with a copy given to the buyer and the seller.

When a trust account is established the account must be in the licensed business name of the broker, must be identified as a "real estate trust account", and the FUNDS MUST BE SUBJECT TO WITHDRAWAL ON DEMAND BY THE BROKER. The broker may authorize others to sign trust account checks and withdraw funds, but the broker is held strictly responsible and accountable for the funds on deposit.

When a broker establishes a trust account with a title company the same principles apply. The trust account must be established in the licensed business name of the broker and the broker must retain control of the funds until a full accounting is made with the buyers and sellers. If the title company requires approval from some other person or persons prior to releasing the funds, then the broker has relinquished control and is not properly accounting for the funds as required by the Idaho Real Estate License Law and Rules.

Regardless of where the broker establishes a real estate trust account, the broker is required to notify the Commission on a form entitled Notice of Opening a Trust Account and includes the Agreement & Authorization to Inspect@. This form must be signed by the broker and by an officer of the trust account depository. In the event of a coop transaction, the funds may be placed in the listing or selling broker's trust account if the purchase and sale agreement specifies that the listing or selling broker is to be responsible for holding the funds. (section 54-2048, Idaho Code).

If the buyer and seller refuse to place the funds with the broker and want the earnest money or other funds placed with someone other than the broker, the broker must advise all parties in writing that (1) the broker has not receipted for any funds, (2) the broker has no control over the funds, (3) the transaction is being handled in a manner contrary to standard practice, and (4) the parties are fully responsible for the deposit and access to the funds. In these situations, the broker must never handle the funds in any manner.

PRESENTATION OF MULTIPLE OFFERS BY THE LISTING AGENT

Effective July 1, 2007, all brokerages hired to provide any brokerage services, whether as an agent or non-agent, must be available to receive and timely present all written offers and counteroffers.

This Guideline addresses the situation in which more than one offer is received in connection with the same property.

Section 54-2051 Idaho Code provides:

A broker or sales associate shall, as promptly as practicable, tender to the seller every written offer to purchase obtained on the real estate involved, up until time of closing. A purchase and sale agreement signed by the prospective buyer shall be deemed in all respects an offer to purchase.

Whenever more than one written offer is received in connection with the same property, special care must be taken to ensure that the duties owed to the parties, whether as clients or customers, are carried out by the licensees involved. The following is a list of some of the more common issues to be considered when multiple offers are received:

WORKING WITH THE SELLER

1. General Duty to Present Offers. All licensees, whether acting as an agent or nonagent of the seller, have the duty to promptly present to the seller EVERY WRITTEN OFFER up to and until closing of the property.
2. Duty to Promote Client/Seller's Interest. When acting on behalf of a Seller pursuant to an Agency Representation Agreement, licensees owe the seller/client the further, heightened duty "to promote the best interests of the client in good faith, honesty and fair dealing." This includes "seeking a buyer to purchase the seller's property at a price, and under terms and conditions acceptable to seller and assisting in the negotiation thereof." As an agent for the seller/client, the licensee should be diligent in informing the seller about any offers or possible offers on the property that might materially affect the seller/client's decisions about the sale of the property.
3. Making Known the Terms of the Offer to Other Buyers. At the time of the listing, it is advisable that the licensee discusses with the seller/client the issue of disclosing the terms of any offer. Generally, the seller should decide whether to make known to other buyers the terms of the offers he or she might receive. However, if the licensee also represents the buyer – as a limited dual agent - the licensee's ability to disclose the terms of the offer to other buyers may be restricted. For this reason, it is critical that the licensee be aware of whom he or she represents, and also that the licensee disclose to the client(s) any limitations upon his or her representation. However, unless the licensee also represents the buyer, the licensee owes no duty to the buyer to withhold terms of the offer from other buyers.

However, while the idea of disclosing offers from one buyer to another may seem appealing at first to a seller hoping to get a higher price, it can also work to the seller's detriment. For example – a property is listed for $200,000 and seller has offer in hand for $180,000. The seller instructs the agent to reveal this offer to another interested buyer, who then offers $181,000 and buys the house. Actually, the second buyer had intended to offer $195,000. The seller is out $14,000. For this reason, it is important to discuss with the seller, preferably beforehand, the handling of multiple offers.

4. Advising the Seller on Multiple Offers. The licensee should also inform the client/seller that the listing for sale is not an offer, but an invitation for offers from others. As such, the seller is not obligated to deal with multiple offers in any particular order, and, in fact, is not obligated to accept, or counter, or formally reject any of them. However, the seller should be advised that he or she may become contractually liable to the broker for a commission if the seller fails to accept the offer of buyer who is "ready, willing and able" to purchase the property on the listing terms.

5. Advising the Seller After an Offer has been Accepted. On occasion, a seller who has accepted an offer (i.e., entered into a contract) is presented with better offer from a different buyer, and the seller wants out of the existing contract. In such cases, the licensee should advise the seller to seek legal advice before attempting to terminate the existing contract, and before becoming obligated under a second contract (e.g., contracting to sell the same property to two different buyers). A licensee may not give the seller legal advice; but the licensee can state that failing to perform the terms of a contract, or obligating oneself under two contracts, can have serious legal consequences for a seller. If the seller does accept a second buyer's offer (other than as a backup offer), it is advisable that the licensee maintain documentation showing that the licensee advised the seller to seek legal advice prior to seller's agreeing to sell the same property to two different buyers.

WORKING WITH THE BUYER

Licensees working with or representing buyers have some additional issues to watch when dealing with multiple offers.

1. Offer Conditioned on Nondisclosure. A buyer may desire as a condition of his offer, that the price and terms of the offer not be disclosed to any other party (e.g., other potential buyers). However, because a seller is not bound by this condition unless or until he agrees to it, the licensee working with the buyer should obtain the seller's agreement to non-disclosure prior to presenting the buyer's offer.

2. Multiple Offers By the Same Buyer on Different Properties. On occasion, a buyer who has accepted an offer (e.g., entered a binding contract) on one property, subsequently wants to make an offer on a different property instead, and, if the second is accepted, terminate the existing contract. When faced with a buyer's request to write up an offer on a second property, the licensee should proceed with caution. The licensee should advise the buyer to seek legal advice before becoming obligated under two contracts (e.g., by buying two properties), and before attempting to terminate the existing contract. Although the licensee may not give legal advice, the licensee can state that failing to perform the terms of a contract, or obligating oneself under two contracts, can have serious legal consequences for a buyer. If the buyer insists on making an offer on the second property, the licensee should maintain documentation showing the licensee advised the buyer to seek legal advice prior to making the offer on the second property.

3. Multiple Offers Presented by a Licensee Representing Different Buyers for the Same Property.

A licensee may represent two or more buyers interested in the same property. When this situation arises, the licensee should ensure that the buyer/clients have been notified that the licensee may be presenting competing offers of other buyer clients, and that the licensee is not permitted to promote the interests of one buyer/client over the interests of any other.

On occasion, a seller wishing to avoid the delays of negotiations may make the initial "offer," or a counter-offer, to all prospective buyers, by presenting terms of a sale which, upon acceptance by the first buyer, will be binding on the parties. Licensees working with interested buyers should advise their customers/clients that it is the first buyer to deliver written acceptance of the seller's terms that gets the contract, and therefore time is of the essence.

GENERAL:

1. If questions arise on any area of contract law, such as if and when effective acceptance or revocation of an offer or counteroffer will take place, it is in the agent's best interest to advise the seller or buyer to seek legal counsel.

2. Remember that many issues in multiple offers are determined by the agency status of a real estate licensee. Be certain to follow scrupulously Sections 54-2086, 54-2087, and 54-2088, Idaho Code, and to act in a manner consistent with the agency relationship you undertake.

This Guideline is general in nature and is not intended to address each and every circumstance or issue that may arise in a multiple offer situation. As with any area where a question of contract law arises, it is best to urge the seller to seek competent legal counsel before difficulties develop, and, as is always prudent, licensees would be well advised to document in writing that they have advised the client or customer to see an attorney

USE OF UNLICENSED ASSISTANTS AND OFFICE STAFF

The Commission often receives questions from brokers and salespersons on the use of unlicensed personal assistants, secretaries and office staff. The use of personal assistants has grown considerably in recent years. Personal assistants are generally thought of as unlicensed persons performing various functions as employees (including clerical support) or independent contractors of a real estate broker within the framework of a real estate transaction. The Commission recognizes the growth in the utilization of such assistants. Inquiries generally fit into two categories:

- (1) whether the activity performed is one which requires a license, and
- (2) what are the supervisory responsibilities of an employing broker?

Personal assistants who hold active real estate licenses and the brokers in whose offices they work should be aware that the brokers are fully responsible for all licensees, whether they are called personal assistants or not, and all licensed "assistants" are fully subject to Idaho License Law and Rules.

The license law prohibits unlicensed persons from negotiating, listing or selling real property. Therefore, foremost to the use of personal assistants is careful restriction of their activities so as to avoid illegal brokerage practice. Personal assistants may complete forms prepared and as directed by licensees but should never independently draft legal documents such as listing and sales contracts, nor should they offer opinions, advice or interpretations. In addition, they should not distribute information on listed properties other than that prepared by the employing broker or broker associate.

On the other hand, they may:

1. Perform clerical duties for an employing broker or broker associate which may include the gathering of information for a listing;
2. Provide access to a property other than showings to potential buyers and hand out reprinted, objective information, so long as no negotiating, offering, selling or contracting is involved;
3. Distribute preprinted, objective information at an open house, so long as no negotiating, offering, selling or contracting is involved;
4. Distribute information on listed properties when such information is prepared by the broker or broker associate;
5. Deliver paperwork to other brokers;
6. Deliver paperwork to sellers or purchasers, if such paperwork has already been reviewed by a broker;
7. Deliver paperwork requiring signatures in regard to financing documents that are prepared by lending institutions; and
8. Prepare market analyses for sellers or buyers on behalf of a broker, but disclosure of the name of the preparer must be given, and it must be submitted by the broker.

Employing brokers need to be especially aware of their supervisory duties under the license law. Brokers have always been and continue to be responsible for the actions of their licensed and unlicensed staff. Part of that responsibility has been supervising unlicensed staff and seeing that the unlicensed personnel does not engage in any prohibited activity -- that is, activity requiring a real estate license.

An employing broker should have a written office policy explaining the duties, responsibilities and limitations on the use of personal assistants. This policy should be reviewed by and explained to all employees. Licensees should not directly share commissions with unlicensed assistants. Although this may not technically be a violation of the licensing act if the activity is not one which requires a license, the temptation to “cross over” into the area of negotiating and other prohibited practices is greatly increased where compensation is based on the success of the transaction.

If brokers develop adequate policies for the use of assistants and routine procedures for monitoring their activities, the assistant can serve as a valuable tool in the success of the transaction. As with any other activity involving the delegation of an act to another, the freedom and convenience afforded the broker in allowing the use of assistants carries with it certain responsibilities for that person’s actions.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE LICENSE LAW

54-2002. Licensure Required.

No person shall engage in the business or act in the capacity of real estate broker or real estate salesperson in this state without an active Idaho real estate license therefore. Unless exempted from this chapter, any single act described within the definitions of “real estate broker” or “real estate salesperson” shall be sufficient to constitute “engaging in the business” within the meaning of this chapter. Any person who engages in the business or acts in the capacity of real estate broker or salesperson in this state, with or without an Idaho real estate license, has thereby submitted to the jurisdiction of the state of Idaho and to the administrative jurisdiction of the Idaho Real Estate Commission, and shall be subject to all penalties and remedies available under Idaho law for any violation of this chapter.

54-2059. Disciplinary Powers B Revocation,

Suspension or Other Disciplinary Action. (1) The Commission may temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this chapter, issue a formal reprimand and impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), and assess costs and attorney’s fees for the cost of any investigation and administrative or other proceedings against any licensee who is found to have violated any section of the Idaho Code, the Commission’s administrative rules or any order of the Commission. The Executive Director may issue informal letters of reprimand to licensees without civil penalty or cost assessment. The Commission may impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) and assess costs and attorney’s fees for the cost of any investigation and administrative or other proceedings against any person who is found, through a court or administrative proceeding, to have acted without a license in violation of section 54-2002, Idaho Code. The civil penalty provisions of this section are in addition to and not in lieu of any other actions or criminal penalties for acting as a broker or salesperson without a license which might be imposed by other sections of this chapter or Idaho law. The Commission may also accept, on such conditions as it may prescribe, or reject any offer to voluntarily terminate the license of a person whose activity is under investigation or against whom a formal complaint has been filed.

54-2065. Penalty for Acting as a Broker or Salesperson Without License.

Any person acting as a real estate broker or real estate salesperson within the meaning of this chapter without a license as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, if a natural person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed one (1) year, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court; or if a limited liability company or corporation, by a fine of not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). Additionally, the court may assess a civil penalty against a natural person in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), and against a limited liability company or corporation, in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). All civil penalties shall be credited to the special real estate fund.

SIGNATURES AND THE USE OF COUNTEROFFER FORMS

Section 54-2051(2), Idaho Code, states: "Immediately upon receiving any offer to purchase signed and dated by the buyer and any consideration, a broker or salesperson shall provide a copy of the offer to purchase to the buyer as a receipt."

In an effort to avoid illegible alterations on the purchase and sale agreements, "counteroffer" forms should be used to make any changes to the original offer. Section 54-2051(3) and (4)(a), Idaho Code, states:

(3) Upon obtaining a properly signed and dated acceptance of an offer to purchase, the broker or sales associate shall promptly deliver true and legible copies of such accepted offer to both the buyer and the seller.

(4) The broker or sales associate shall make certain that all offers to purchase real property or any interest therein are in writing and contain all of the following specific terms, provisions and statements:

(a) All terms and conditions of the real estate transaction as directed by the buyer or seller.

The signatures must be obtained in a manner which will effectuate a "proper acceptance" of the offer. The question has arisen: when a "counteroffer" form is used in addition to the original purchase and sale agreement, should the seller sign BOTH the original purchase and sale agreement AND the counteroffer form, or should the seller sign ONLY the counteroffer form?

If the counteroffer form contains specific language incorporating it by reference into the original agreement, it is not MANDATORY that the seller sign both documents. The seller may sign the counteroffer only. However, if the counteroffer form does NOT contain specific "incorporation" language, the seller must sign both documents and reference the attached counteroffer on the original purchase and sale agreement.

OR, it is also permissible for the seller to sign the original purchase and sale agreement and include, at the signature line, a reference to the counteroffer to which it pertains.

The important point to remember is that any time a counteroffer is used, both documents must properly "track" or identify exactly which offers are the accepted offers. For instance, the signature line on the original offer might be signed by the seller in the following way: "(signed) John W. Doe/acceptance subject to the counteroffer of July 1, 2000, 1:30 p.m.". Identification should be done with as much specificity as possible. Clearly, having a seller sign an original purchase and sale agreement which does not reference a counteroffer and which does not reflect the actual agreement between the parties would be improper.

Any and all questions about the effectiveness of the offer and acceptance in a specific case should be referred to the attorney for the seller or buyer. The Idaho Real Estate Commission does not produce or approve, in any manner, any of the purchase and sale agreements, counteroffer forms, addendums or any other forms for use in the state of Idaho.

IDAHO REAL ESTATE COMMISSION

Guideline #21

Revised August 2007

TELEPHONE, FAX AND E-MAIL SOLICITATION

Introduction

The Idaho Real Estate Commission is often asked whether or not an unlicensed person can perform telemarketing services on behalf of a licensee. Most often, licensees want to employ the services of unlicensed assistants or telemarketing firms, from in or out of state, to make unsolicited telephone calls to the residential phones of persons whose listings have expired recently, persons who live in a neighborhood where homes are selling well, or persons who currently have their houses offered for sale by owner (FSBO's).

Licensees considering telephone solicitation or sending any unsolicited information to a wireless device (e-mail or text-messaging) should be aware of the following:

- 1. Any person who, by telephone solicitations, attempts to secure listings or attempts to secure appointments for listing presentations to any individual, must hold an active Idaho real estate license.
- 2. All telephone solicitors, including real estate licensees, must comply with the Idaho Telephone Solicitation Act, (ITSA), and the federal Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA).
- 3 Federal law prohibits licensees from sending unsolicited faxes, e-mails, and text messages – with narrow exceptions. Licensees should familiarize themselves with the restrictions imposed by the TCPA, the Controlling the Assault of Non-Solicited Pornography and Marketing Act (CAN-SPAM), and the Junk Fax Prevention Act.

DISCUSSION

#1 – A Real Estate License Is Required

Under the Idaho Real Estate License Law, no person may engage in the business of a “real estate broker” in Idaho without first obtaining an active Idaho real estate license (Section 54 2002, Idaho Code). Section 54 2004, Idaho Code, defines a real estate broker:

54-2004. Definitions.

“Real estate broker” means and includes:

(a) Any person other than a real estate salesperson, who, directly or indirectly, while acting for another, for compensation or a promise or an expectation thereof, engages in any of the following: sells, lists, buys, or negotiates, or offers to sell, list, buy or negotiate the purchase, sale, option or exchange of real estate or any interest therein or business opportunity or interest therein for others.

(b) Any actively licensed broker while, directly or indirectly, acting on the broker's own behalf;

(c) Any person who represents to the public that the person is engaged in any of the above activities;

(d) Any person who directly or indirectly engages in, directs, or takes any part in the procuring of prospects, or in the negotiating or closing of any transaction which does or is calculated to result in any of the acts above set forth;

(e) a dealer in options as defined in this section.

It is the opinion of the Idaho Real Estate Commission that any person who, by telephone solicitations, attempts to secure listings or attempts to secure appointments for listing presentations to any individual, must first be licensed as a real estate broker or sales associate within the state of Idaho.

While the Idaho Real Estate License Law and Rules do not specifically address telephone solicitation of listings, general rules regarding listings, including agency disclosure, fairness, prohibition of misrepresentation, etc. would apply.

A licensee may engage in telemarketing. However, the licensee should be familiar with the state and federal laws applicable to such marketing activities.

#2 – State and Federal Regulations Apply to Telephone Solicitation

A. The Idaho Telephone Solicitation Act. Enacted in 1992, the Idaho Telephone Solicitation Act, (“ITSA”), (Title 48, Chapter 10, Idaho Code) regulates telephone solicitation in Idaho, including solicitation by fax. This law is enforced by the Idaho Attorney General.

“Telephone solicitation” means “Any unsolicited telephone call to a purchaser for the purpose of asking, inducing, inviting, requesting, or encouraging the purchaser to purchase or invest in goods or services during the course of a telephone call . . .” Idaho Code § 48-1002(10). A “telephone solicitor” is “any person who, on his own behalf or through other persons or through use of an automatic dialing-announcing device, engages in a telephone solicitation.” Idaho Code § 48-1002(11)

i. Do Not Call Registry. Under ITSA, it is illegal for telephone solicitor to call Idaho phone numbers registered on the National Do Not Call Registry (The State no longer publishes a separate state No Call List.) The law specifically permits a business to call consumers with whom the business has an established business relationship, even if the consumer is on the Registry. Businesses can obtain Idaho phone numbers registered on the National Do Not Call Registry through the internet, at:

<https://telemarketing.donotcall.gov/default.aspx>

ii. Unlawful Acts. All telephone solicitation in Idaho is subject to the ITSA's “unlawful acts” prohibition, found at section 48-1003, Idaho Code. Prohibited acts include: intimidation; refusal to hang up immediately upon request; misrepresentation of or failure to disclose material facts concerning the services being offered; and sending any unsolicited advertisement by fax.

More information about the Idaho Telephone Solicitation Act may be accessed at:

<http://www2.state.id.us/ag/consumer/ncl/telemarketerlinks.htm>

B. The Federal Telephone Consumer Protection Act. The federal Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, (“TCPA”), 47 U.S.C. Section 227, and the regulations promulgated by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), govern telephone solicitations and regulate the use of automatic telephone dialing systems, prerecorded or artificial voice messages, and telephone facsimile machines. These laws apply to ALL solicitors; there are no exemptions for real estate licensees. So brokers and sales associates contacting prospects must be familiar with the federal TCPA and its implementation by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). The applicable rules and their amendments may be accessed at:

<http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/donotcall/businfo.html>

#3. Federal law also prohibits the sending of unsolicited faxes and unsolicited e-mail messages to wireless devices, such as cell phones. The Junk Fax Prevention Act makes the restrictions of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) applicable to faxes. The federal CAN-SPAM Act supplements the TCPA and sets forth specific requirements for senders of commercial e-mails.

The prohibitions and requirements apply to all “commercial messages,” meaning messages for which the primary purpose is to advertise or promote a commercial product or service. However, they do not cover “transactional or relationship” messages, or notices to facilitate a transaction that the recipient has already agreed to. They do not prohibit messages that the recipient has expressly authorized the licensee to send. Further information concerning the requirements of these federal laws can be accessed as follows:

CAN-SPAM Act: <http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/consumerfacts/canspam.html>

Unsolicited Faxes: <http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/consumerfacts/unwantedfaxes.html>

CONCLUSION

1. An unlicensed person must not engage in telephone solicitations of any kind designed to procure buyers, listings, or appointments for real estate listing presentations. Such activities require an active Idaho real estate license.

2. The Idaho Telephone Solicitation Act and the federal Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA), and the CAN-SPAM ACT may impact any telephone solicitations made by licensees to prospective buyers and sellers. Due to the potential for government sanctions and private lawsuits for failure to comply with either law, licensees are encouraged to consult their attorneys and obtain further information prior to engaging in telephone solicitation, or the sending by telephone, fax or e-mail of any unsolicited advertisement.

AUCTIONEERS OF REAL ESTATE

When persons who provide auction services become involved in real estate sales, questions arise as to whether or not that auctioneer needs to be licensed as a real estate broker or salesperson.

Idaho law does require every auctioneer to obtain an auctioneer's license from their county treasurer. For an annual fee, this auctioneer's license is valid for sales in any county of Idaho. (Section 63-2304, Idaho Code). However, an auctioneer's particular services and business activities in the sale of real estate may well require real estate licensure also.

The basic test is: Are the activities being performed by the auction company or auctioneer identified in Section 54-2004(29), Idaho Code, as activities requiring a real estate license? While the specific answer to this question can only be determined on a case by case basis, here are some common questions and answers:

1. Is the taking of a "consignment" to sell real property at auction a licensed brokerage activity?

Most likely, yes. Procuring of prospects to list or sell real property for compensation is an activity requiring licensure.

2. Is the act alone of calling the sale at auction one requiring a real estate license?

No.

3. Is a one-time sale by auction, i.e., the sale of one property in a single transaction, all right without having a real estate license?

Only if conducted exactly according to the statutory exemption in Section 54-2003(1)(c), Idaho Code, which is the exception for the sale of a single property in a single transaction pursuant to a power of attorney. This exception, while valid, is very limited and may not be relied on in conducting any other regular or frequent or even occasional auction business.

4. Do floor "spotters" at the real estate auction need to be licensed?

If the activity of the person is limited to pointing out bidders to the auctioneer, no.

5. Can the unlicensed auctioneer advertise upcoming real estate auctions alone, without associating with and naming a licensed broker?

See answers #2 and #3 above. While possible, the more activities and services performed by an auctioneer in assisting with and facilitating the sale of real property, the more likely that auctioneer is moving into licensed brokerage activity. An auctioneer must not be holding out to the public that he or she is in any way providing any licensed real estate services.

6. Can a licensed real estate broker split the brokerage commission with an unlicensed auctioneer upon sale at auction?

No. An unlicensed auctioneer can be paid only for specific real estate services rendered, such as calling the auction. The fee just cannot be a split of the brokerage commission or paid from the broker to the unlicensed auctioneer. For example, a broker or seller may purchase advertising on radio or television to market a property. The payment is only for the actual advertising service rendered. While the amount of payment given to an auctioneer can be a percentage of the sales price, it is critical that the seller enter separate contractual obligations - one with the auctioneer and one with the licensed broker, delineating their separate services provided and the compensation therefor. Section 54-2054(2), Idaho Code, states:

Fee-splitting with unlicensed persons prohibited. Unless otherwise allowed by statute or rule, a real estate broker, associate broker or salesperson licensed in the state of Idaho shall not pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received in the licensee's capacity as such in a regulated real estate transaction to any person who is not actively licensed as a real estate broker in Idaho or in another state or jurisdiction. The Idaho broker making the payment to another licensed person is responsible for verifying the active licensed status of the receiving broker. This section shall not prohibit payment of a part or share of a commission, fee or compensation by the broker to a legal business entity, all of whose shareholders, members or other persons having a similar ownership interest are active real estate licensees. An Idaho licensee may pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received, directly to the buyer or seller in the real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner which would directly or indirectly create a double contract, as defined in this chapter or which would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction regarding the source of funds used to complete the real estate transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligations of the buyer.

7. If an auctioneer has a license as a real estate salesperson, can he or she act as an auctioneer and receive commissions without the involvement of his or her broker?

Generally, no. Any licensed activities conducted by a salesperson are legally possible only through the license of that person's broker. Technically, a licensee who wishes to merely provide "talent" and call an auction, if not holding himself or herself out as a licensee in any way, may engage in this activity. However, the permission and consent of all brokers should be obtained!! This type of practice is one fraught with hazards and conflicts and is NOT recommended or advised.

8. Is the recruitment of potential buyers of real property to attend an auction considered brokerage activity?

"Recruiting" prospects or "assist(ing) in the procuring of..." prospects, for compensation, is brokerage activity requiring a real estate license. Of course, mere execution of clerical tasks or running advertisements alone is not licensed activity. Refer to Guideline #17 on the Use of Unlicensed Assistants and Office Staff for additional guidance.

9. If an auction company is a licensed real estate brokerage, must all advertising follow license law and rules?

If the auction company is engaged in licensed activity involving the sale or auction of real property, yes. If the public believes the licensee is acting in a licensed capacity, and/or the licensee is holding himself or herself out as acting in a capacity of a licensee, then, yes, all law and rules of the Idaho Real Estate Commission will apply to that licensed activity, whether or not an auction.

10. What about agency? Whom does the auctioneer or auction company represent and how must this issue be disclosed before, during and after the sale?

All fees except for non-licensed auction services (calling the action, advertising, set-up, etc.), should be directed to real estate agent not auctioneer. If the auctioneer is also a real estate licensee, he or she is bound by all license law including disclosures required by the Brokerage Representation Act. It is the responsibility of the licensee to hand out a blue brochure at first substantial business contact. Any real estate licensee associating with an auctioneer to sell a property should explain his or her own agency or nonagency position prior to beginning the auction, and the fact that the auctioneer is not a real estate licensee.

11. What is a "buyer's premium" and who receives it?

A buyer's premium is a fee, usually a percentage of the bid price, which is paid with and added onto the successful bid amount. Who receives this fee? This depends on the written contractual arrangement between the licensees and/or auctioneer, and the buyer. Refer to question #6 for caveats.

12. Who is the responsible broker in an auction sale?

Either broker, listing or selling, can be the responsible broker. However, one must be identified in a licensed transaction.

13. Can a licensee auction properties listed by another real estate company?

Yes, in theory. However, it must be pursuant to agreement between the brokers in writing, and the responsibilities of each brokerage and the licensee should be carefully spelled out, including identification of responsible broker.

14. Must potential buyers give any consideration up front in order to attend an auction of real property? If so, what is the responsibility of any affiliated licensee or broker?

Auctioneers structure real estate auctions differently. However, if any type of consideration is "held" by or on behalf of the parties conducting the auction of real property involving licensed activity, the licensee will be expected to fully account for the consideration received, according to license law and rules.

15. What are some of the other issues to consider in auction of real estate?

Be aware of the fact that bidders coming to an auction without a real estate licensee, or those who preregister through a licensee, may already have some kind of buyer broker contract and some type of commission or fee obligation to a licensee.

In conclusion, the final determination on the necessity of licensure must be made on the basis of Section 54-2004(29), Idaho Code, defining a real estate broker:

"Real estate broker" means and includes:

- (a) Any person other than a real estate salesperson, who, directly or indirectly, while acting for another, for compensation or a promise or an expectation thereof, engages in any of the following: sells, lists, buys, or negotiates, or offers to sell, list, buy or negotiate the purchase, sale, option or exchange of real estate or any interest therein or business opportunity or interest therein for others;
- (b) Any actively licensed broker while, directly or indirectly, acting on the broker's own behalf;
- (c) Any person who represents to the public that the person is engaged in any of the above activities;
- (d) Any person who directly or indirectly engages in, directs, or takes any part in the procuring of prospects, or in the negotiating or closing of any transaction which does or is calculated to result in any of the acts above set forth;
- (e) A dealer in options as defined in this section.

If any person is engaged, whether or not through an auction mechanism, in licensed real estate activity in the state of Idaho, a real estate broker's license is required.

LICENSEE'S PERSONAL TRANSACTIONS TO BE CONDUCTED THROUGH THE BROKER WITH WHOM HE IS LICENSED

Under Idaho law, all active licensees are required to conduct their personal real estate transactions through the broker with whom they are licensed, regardless whether the property is listed. See section 54-2055, Idaho Code. The law states:

54 2055. LICENSEES DEALING WITH THEIR OWN PROPERTY.

(1) Any actively licensed Idaho broker, sales associate, or legal business entity shall comply with this entire chapter when that licensee is buying, selling or otherwise acquiring or disposing of the licensee's own interest in real property in a regulated real estate transaction.

(2) A licensee shall disclose in writing to any buyer or seller that the licensee holds an active Idaho real estate license, if the licensee directly, indirectly, or through a third party, sells or purchases an interest in real property for personal use or any other purpose; or acquires or intends to acquire any interest in real property or any option to purchase real property.

(3) Each actively licensed person buying or selling real property or any interest therein, in a regulated real estate transaction, must conduct the transaction through the broker with whom he is licensed, whether or not the property is listed.

[Emphasis added].

This Guideline attempts to answer several questions that have arisen as to the requirements of the licensee who conducts his personal transactions through his brokerage.

Question: Must the licensee's broker always be the "responsible broker" for the transaction? If not, how can the transaction "be conducted through" the licensee's broker?

Answer: The Commission recognizes there are transactions for which it is impractical to have the licensee's broker act as the "responsible broker." The purpose and intent of subsection (3) is to ensure that the licensee's broker is made aware of and able to supervise transactions for which he might be held liable. The Commission finds that this purpose is satisfied if the licensee timely provides a copy of each transaction document to his broker, even if the original document is provided to a different broker who is the "responsible broker for the transaction."

Question: Must the licensee enter an Agency Representation Agreement with his Brokerage?

Answer: No. Although the licensee is required to conduct his personal transactions through his brokerage, he and the brokerage are NOT required to enter a written agreement for agency representation. An individual licensee buying or selling property is necessarily acting on his own behalf. However, whether the brokerage agrees to represent the licensee and act as his agent is a decision left to the brokerage and its licensee, and is not required by the law.

The law permits the brokerage and the licensee to enter a written agreement for agency representation, in which case the brokerage will owe its licensee, for that transaction, those duties owed a client under section 54-2087, Idaho Code. Absent a written agreement for agency representation, the relationship of the brokerage to the licensee in the transaction is that of a "non-agent" to a "customer." Whatever brokerage relationship is chosen, it must be indicated accurately in the Representation Confirmation (check the box) section of the Purchase and Sale Agreement. And, of course, the licensee always is required to make written disclosure of the fact that he is actively licensed.

Question: Must the licensee give himself the Agency Disclosure Brochure?

Answer: No. Complying with the License Law does NOT require that the licensee give himself a copy of the Agency Disclosure Brochure. This requirement, contained in Section 54-2085, Idaho Code, does not apply where the "prospective buyer or seller" is an active Idaho licensee.

Question: Will my errors and omissions insurance policy provide coverage for my personal transactions?

Answer: Not likely. Insurance contracts vary. However, errors and omissions policies typically exclude from coverage the licensee's personal transactions. Coverage may exist for the brokerage under the brokerage's separate policy. All licensees should pay careful attention to the exclusion and exemption provisions of any policy of insurance he or she maintains.

Question: Which transactions have to be conducted through the licensee's broker?

Answer: Questions have also arisen as to which transactions fall within the scope of subsection (3), requiring that the transaction be run through the broker with whom the licensee is licensed. The answers will depend on the identity of the "person" buying or selling the property, and whether that person is "actively licensed". A "person" is either an individual or a legal business entity. Unless the "person" buying or selling is actively licensed, the requirement does not apply.

Example #1

Mary Smith is an active licensee. She is married to John, who is not licensed. John works for ABC, Inc., a business that owns real property and constructs new homes. John and Mary are the sole shareholders in ABC, Inc. ABC, Inc. is not licensed.

Question: Does the law require that ABC, Inc.'s sales of its new homes by ABC, Inc. be conducted through a responsible broker?

Answer: No. In this case, ABC, Inc. is the "person" selling property. Because ABC, Inc. is not an "actively licensed person", the requirement of subsection (3) does not apply. However, under the broad language of subsection (2), 54-2055, Idaho Code, Mary Smith is required to disclose, in writing, that she is an active licensee.

Example #2

Same facts as in #1. Mary and John have agreed to buy their neighbor's ranch, and to make the purchase in their own names, "Mary and John Smith". The ranch property is not on the market.

Question: Must the transaction be conducted through Mary's broker?

Answer: Yes. Because Mary is one of the persons buying the property, and because she is "actively licensed", the transaction must be conducted through Mary's broker, "whether or not the property is listed". Mary will also have to make written disclosure of her status as an active licensee.

Example #3

Same facts as in #1. John wants to buy a small lot and building for use in connection with his own personal hobbies. John will handle the transaction and Mary will not be involved at all. (The funds used are not John's sole and separate property.)

Question: Must the transaction be conducted through Mary's broker?

Answer: Yes. Even if the property is purchased for exclusive use by John, the property will still belong to the marital community, and Mary will acquire a community "interest therein." Therefore, the transaction must be conducted through Mary's broker. Again, Mary is also required to disclose her status as an active licensee.

CASE STUDY

This case study is designed to evaluate your experience in receipting, depositing, disbursing, and accounting for funds in a hypothetical realistic work situation.

Assume you are the broker for Terry Joe's Realty located in Ipswitch, Idaho. On May 14, you deposited $200 cash into the trust account for bank fees. On May 20, you are charged $75 by the bank for check printing costs. Terry Joe's Realty will be receiving 6 offers to purchase real estate and three statements from the bank concerning monies deposited and checks drawn on Terry Joe's Realty Trust Account during the three-month period (June, July and August).

Read the narratives concerning the offers, find the correct forms, process them as if you were the broker of Terry Joe's Realty, complete any necessary documents for each item received, and account for all forms and funds received by Terry Joe's Realty in this 3-month period. The trust account must be reconciled upon receipt of each monthly bank statement.

E. Reconciliation—Using the 3-Way Form

In order to complete the reconciliation form, you will need the check register, the deposit book, the most recent bank statement, last month's reconciliation form (to identify any checks that are still outstanding), and the pending (open) trust account ledger sheets.

1. In the upper right hand corner of the form, fill in the "Date of Reconciliation" when the reconciliation is being completed (today's date). For the purposes of this Case Study, we suggest you use the same day you receive the bank statement – in this case, the exact date of the bank statement.
2. Fill in the "Date of Bank Statement" as shown on the bank statement.
3. Fill in the "Ending Balance" as shown on the bank statement.
4. Identify any deposits made since the closing date on the bank statement that do not appear on this statement. List those individual deposits under Outstanding Deposits. Add up the Outstanding Deposits and enter the total.
5. Identify any checks that have not cleared the bank including any checks issued in prior months that are still outstanding. From the check register, include all checks written since the closing date on the bank statement and any checks missing in sequence. List these checks under Outstanding Checks. Add up the Outstanding Checks and enter the total.
6. Enter the totals of Outstanding Deposits and Outstanding Checks in the reconciliation section of the form (upper right). Calculate the current balance in the bank: Ending Balance minus (–) Outstanding Checks plus (+) Outstanding Deposits equals (=) Bank Balance.
7. List all pending (open) trust account ledger balances in the columns on the left-hand side of the form under "Trust Liability" referencing transaction number and buyer/seller names. Be sure to include the Trust Maintenance Funds ledger if there are any maintenance funds in the trust account. Total the balance column under "Trust Liability" and record the total at the bottom of the column where indicated "Total Liability."
8. Enter the "Total Liability" balance on the "Open Ledger Balance" line in the reconciliation section of the form (upper right).
9. Enter the current balance from the check register on the "Check Register Balance" line.
10. The current Bank Balance, Open Ledger Balance, and the Check Register Balance MUST be the same (equal) if the account is in the required 3-way balance.
11. If the account is NOT in the 3-way balance, list the amount it is "off", and go back to your records to re-search why the account is off by that amount. Redo the reconciliation if necessary in order to balance.

NOTE!

This reconciliation form is available free from the Commission's website as a downloadable Excel file, with automatic calculations.

II. TRANSACTION #YR-002 – KING/BLACK

On June 3, Yr, one of your sales associates obtains an offer from Steven King with a promissory note due June 10, Yr, as the earnest money consideration. The agreement is contingent upon the buyer obtaining financing. The sellers accept the offer on June 5, Yr. The note is paid on June 9, Yr, with a check drawn on a local bank. On June 23, Yr, you receive a copy of a letter from the lender stating that the buyers can not obtain financing, and, therefore, after obtaining releases signed by both parties, the earnest money is returned to the buyer.

3. BROKER REPRESENTATIONS AND SERVICES: The Broker and Broker's agent representing a BUYER are agents of the BUYER. Broker will use reasonable efforts as BUYER'S agent to locate property as described in Section One hereof from the information available in the Multiple Listing Service (MLS) and from other sources for unlisted property that the Broker may be aware of when applicable as set forth in Section One. The Broker's duty to locate property for the BUYER is limited to the properties that the Broker is aware of and does not include a duty to discover every unlisted property that may be privately advertised. Broker shall make submissions to BUYER describing and identifying properties that substantially meet the criteria set forth in Section One, for consideration of the BUYER and Broker agrees to negotiate acceptance of any offer to purchase or lease such property.

4. TRANSACTION RELATED SERVICES DISCLAIMER: BUYER understands that Broker is qualified to advise BUYER on general matters concerning real estate, but is not an expert in matters of law, tax, financing, surveying, structural conditions, property inspections, hazardous materials, or engineering. BUYER acknowledges that Broker advises BUYER to seek expert assistance for advice on such matters. Broker cannot warrant the condition of property to be acquired, or guarantee that all material facts are disclosed by the Seller. Broker will not investigate the condition of any property including without limitation the status of permits, zoning, location of property lines, square footage, possible loss of views and/or compliance of the property with applicable laws, codes or ordinances and BUYER must satisfy themselves concerning these issues by obtaining the appropriate expert advice. The Broker or Broker's agent may, during the course of the transaction, identify individuals or entities who perform services including BUT NOT LIMITED TO the following; home inspections, service contracts, appraisals, environmental assessment inspections, code compliance inspections, title insurance, closing and escrow services, loans and refinancing services, construction and repairs, legal and accounting services, and/or surveys. The BUYER understands that the identification of service providers is solely for BUYER'S convenience and that the Broker and its agent are not guaranteeing or assuring that the service provider will perform its duties in accordance with the BUYER'S expectations. BUYER has the right to make arrangements with any entity BUYER chooses to provide these services. BUYER hereby releases and holds harmless the Broker and Broker's agent from any claims by the BUYER that service providers breached their agreement, were negligent, misrepresented information, or otherwise failed to perform in accordance with the BUYER'S expectations. In the event the BUYER requests Broker to obtain any products or services from outside sources, BUYER agrees to pay for them immediately when payment is due. For example: surveys or engineering, environmental and/or soil tests, title reports, home or property inspections, appraisals, etc.

5. FINANCIAL INFORMATION: BUYER agrees to provide Broker and/or Broker's agent with certain pertinent financial information necessary to prove ability to purchase desired property.

6. OTHER POTENTIAL BUYERS: BUYER understands that other potential buyers may consider, make offers on, or purchase through Broker the same or similar properties as BUYER is seeking to acquire. BUYER consents to Broker's representation of such other potential buyers before, during, and after the expiration of this Agreement and further releases Broker of any conflicting Agency duties.

7. LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY OF OFFERS: BUYER understands that an offer submitted to a seller, and the terms thereof may not be held confidential by such seller or seller's representative unless such confidentiality is otherwise agreed to by the parties.

8. CONSENT TO LIMITED DUAL REPRESENTATION AND ASSIGNED AGENCY: The undersigned BUYER(S) have received, read and understand the Agency Disclosure Brochure (prepared by the Idaho Real Estate Commission). The undersigned BUYER(S) understand that the brokerage involved in this transaction may be providing agency representation to both the BUYER(S) and the Seller. The undersigned BUYER(S) each understands that, as an agent for both BUYER/client and Seller/client, a brokerage will be a limited dual agent of each client and cannot advocate on behalf of one client over another, and cannot legally disclose to either client certain confidential client information concerning price negotiations, terms or factors motivating the BUYER/client to buy or the Seller/client to sell without specific written permission of the client to whom the information pertains. The specific duties, obligations and limitations of a limited dual agent are contained in the Agency Disclosure Brochure as required by Section 54-2085, Idaho Code. The undersigned BUYER(S) each understands that a limited dual agent does not have a duty of undivided loyalty to either client.

The undersigned BUYER(S) further acknowledge that, to the extent the brokerage firm offers assigned agency as a type of agency representation, individual sales associates may be assigned to represent each client to act solely on behalf of the client consistent with applicable duties set forth in Section 54-2087, Idaho Code. In an assigned agency situation, the designated broker (the broker who supervises the sales associates) will remain a limited dual agent of the client and shall have the duty to supervise the assigned agents in the fulfillment of their duties to their respective clients, to refrain from advocating on behalf of any one client over another, and to refrain from disclosing or using, without permission, confidential information of any other client with whom the brokerage has an agency relationship.

BUYER NOTIFICATION AND CONSENT TO RELEASE FROM CONFLICTING AGENCY DUTIES: BUYER acknowledges that Broker as named above has disclosed the fact that at times Broker acts as agent(s) for other BUYERS and for Sellers in the sale of the property. BUYER has been advised and understands that it may create a conflict of interest for Broker to introduce BUYER to a Seller Client's property because Broker could not satisfy all of its Client duties to both BUYER Client and Seller Client in connection with such a showing or any transaction which resulted.

5. FINANCIAL INFORMATION: BUYER agrees to provide Broker and/or Broker's agent with certain pertinent financial information necessary to prove ability to purchase desired property.

6. OTHER POTENTIAL BUYERS: BUYER understands that other potential buyers may consider, make offers on, or purchase through Broker the same or similar properties as BUYER is seeking to acquire. 7. LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY OF OFFERS: BUYER understands that an offer submitted to a seller, and the terms thereof may not be held confidential by such seller or seller's representative unless such confidentiality is otherwise agreed to by the parties.

8. CONSENT TO LIMITED DUAL REPRESENTATION AND ASSIGNED AGENCY: The undersigned BUYER(S) have received, read and understand the Agency Disclosure Brochure (prepared by the Idaho Real Estate Commission). The undersigned BUYER(S) understand that the brokerage involved in this transaction may be providing agency representation to both the BUYER(S) and the Seller. The undersigned BUYER(S) each understands that, as an agent for both BUYER/client and Seller/client, a brokerage will be a limited dual agent of each client and cannot advocate on behalf of one client over another, and cannot legally disclose to either client certain confidential client information concerning price negotiations, terms or factors motivating the BUYER/client to buy or the Seller/client to sell without specific written permission of the client to whom the information pertains. The specific duties, obligations and limitations of a limited dual agent are contained in the Agency Disclosure Brochure as required by Section 54-2085, Idaho Code. The undersigned BUYER(S) each understands that a limited dual agent does not have a duty of undivided loyalty to either client.

The undersigned BUYER(S) further acknowledge that, to the extent the brokerage firm offers assigned agency as a type of agency representation, individual sales associates may be assigned to represent each client to act solely on behalf of the client consistent with applicable duties set forth in Section 54-2087, Idaho Code. In an assigned agency situation, the designated broker (the broker who supervises the sales associates) will remain a limited dual agent of the client and shall have the duty to supervise the assigned agents in the fulfillment of their duties to their respective clients, to refrain from advocating on behalf of any one client over another, and to refrain from disclosing or using, without permission, confidential information of any other client with whom the brokerage has an agency relationship.

BUYER has been advised and understands that it may create a conflict of interest for Broker to introduce BUYER to a Seller Client's property because Broker could not satisfy all of its Client duties to both BUYER Client and Seller Client in connection with such a showing or any transaction which resulted.

Based on the understandings acknowledged, BUYER makes the following election.
(Make one election only)

          /           BUYER DOES WANT to be introduced to Seller client's property and hereby agrees to relieve Broker of Initials conflicting agency duties, including the duty to disclose confidential information known to the Broker at the Limited Dual time and the duty of loyalty to either party. Relieved of all conflicting agency duties, Broker will act in an Agency unbiased manner to assist the BUYER and Seller in the introduction of BUYER to such Seller client's and/or property and in the preparation of any contract of sale which may result. BUYER authorizes Broker to act in a
Assigned Agency limited dual agency capacity. Further, BUYER agrees that Broker may offer, but is not obligated to offer,

26. DEFAULT: If BUYER defaults in the performance of this Agreement, SELLER has the option of: (1) accepting the Earnest Money as liquidated damages or (2) pursuing any other lawful right and/or remedy to which SELLER may be entitled. If SELLER elects to proceed under (1), SELLER shall make demand upon the holder of the Earnest Money, upon which demand said holder shall pay from the Earnest Money the costs incurred by SELLER'S Broker on behalf of SELLER and BUYER related to the transaction, including, without limitation, the costs of title insurance, escrow fees, appraisal, credit report fees, inspection fees and attorney's fees; and said holder shall pay any balance of the Earnest Money, one-half to SELLER and one-half to SELLER'S Broker, provided that the amount to be paid to SELLER'S Broker shall not exceed the Broker's agreed to commission. SELLER and BUYER specifically acknowledge and agree that if SELLER elects to accept the Earnest Money as liquidated damages, such shall be SELLER'S sole and exclusive remedy, and such shall not be considered a penalty or forfeiture. If SELLER elects to proceed under (2), the holder of the Earnest Money shall be entitled to pay the costs incurred by SELLER'S Broker on behalf of SELLER and BUYER related to the transaction, including, without limitation, the costs of brokerage fee, title insurance, escrow fees, appraisal, credit report fees, inspection fees and attorney's fees, with any balance of the Earnest Money to be held pending resolution of the matter.

If SELLER defaults, having approved said sale and fails to consummate the same as herein agreed, BUYER'S Earnest Money deposit shall be returned to him/her and SELLER shall pay for the costs of title insurance, escrow fees, appraisals, credit report fees, inspection fees, brokerage fees and attorney's fees, if any. This shall not be considered as a waiver by BUYER of any other lawful right or remedy to which BUYER may be entitled.

27. EARNEST MONEY DISPUTE / INTERPLEADER: Notwithstanding any termination of this contract, BUYER and SELLER agree that in the event of any controversy regarding the Earnest Money and things of value held by Broker or closing agency, unless mutual written instructions are received by the holder of the Earnest Money and things of value, Broker or closing agency shall not be required to take any action but may await any proceeding, or at Broker's or closing agency's option and sole discretion, may interplead all parties and deposit any monies or things of value into a court of competent jurisdiction and shall recover court costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

5. FINANCIAL INFORMATION: BUYER agrees to provide Broker and/or Broker's agent with certain pertinent financial information necessary to prove ability to purchase desired property.

6. OTHER POTENTIAL BUYERS: BUYER understands that other potential buyers may consider, make offers on, or purchase through Broker the same or similar properties as BUYER is seeking to acquire. BUYER consents to Broker's representation of such other potential buyers before, during, and after the expiration of this Agreement and further releases Broker of any conflicting Agency duties.

7. LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY OF OFFERS: BUYER understands that an offer submitted to a seller, and the terms thereof may not be held confidential by such seller or seller's representative unless such confidentiality is otherwise agreed to by the parties.

8. CONSENT TO LIMITED DUAL REPRESENTATION AND ASSIGNED AGENCY: The undersigned BUYER(S) have received, read and understand the Agency Disclosure Brochure (prepared by the Idaho Real Estate Commission). The undersigned BUYER(S) understand that the brokerage involved in this transaction may be providing agency representation to both the BUYER(S) and the Seller. The undersigned BUYER(S) each understands that, as an agent for both BUYER/client and Seller/client, a brokerage will be a limited dual agent of each client and cannot advocate on behalf of one client over another, and cannot legally disclose to either client certain confidential client information concerning price negotiations, terms or factors motivating the BUYER/client to buy or the Seller/client to sell without specific written permission of the client to whom the information pertains. The specific duties, obligations and limitations of a limited dual agent are contained in the Agency Disclosure Brochure as required by Section 54-2085, Idaho Code. The undersigned BUYER(S) each understands that a limited dual agent does not have a duty of undivided loyalty to either client.

The undersigned BUYER(S) further acknowledge that, to the extent the brokerage firm offers assigned agency as a type of agency representation, individual sales associates may be assigned to represent each client to act solely on behalf of the client consistent with applicable duties set forth in Section 54-2087, Idaho Code. In an assigned agency situation, the designated broker (the broker who supervises the sales associates) will remain a limited dual agent of the client and shall have the duty to supervise the assigned agents in the fulfillment of their duties to their respective clients, to refrain from advocating on behalf of any one client over another, and to refrain from disclosing or using, without permission, confidential information of any other client with whom the brokerage has an agency relationship.

BUYER NOTIFICATION AND CONSENT TO RELEASE FROM CONFLICTING AGENCY DUTIES: BUYER acknowledges that Broker as named above has disclosed the fact that at times Broker acts as agent(s) for other BUYERS and for Sellers in the sale of the property. BUYER has been advised and understands that it may create a conflict of interest for Broker to introduce BUYER to a Seller Client's property because Broker could not satisfy all of its Client duties to both BUYER Client and Seller Client in connection with such a showing or any transaction which resulted.

(Make one election only)

_____ / _____ Initials Limited Dual Agency and/or Assigned Agency	BUYER DOES WANT to be introduced to Seller client's property and hereby agrees to relieve Broker of conflicting agency duties, including the duty to disclose confidential information known to the Broker at the time and the duty of loyalty to either party. BUYER authorizes Broker to act in a limited dual agency capacity. Further, BUYER agrees that Broker may offer, but is not obligated to offer, assigned agency representation, and if offered by the Broker, BUYER authorizes Broker to act in such capacity.
